NY GRAND JURY NEARS END IN TRUMP CASE

A New York grand jury investigating Donald Trump over a hush money payment to a porn star appears poised to complete its work soon as law enforcement officials prepare for possible unrest in the event of an indictment. Trump had claimed without any evidence that he would be arrested on Tuesday, with his representatives later saying he was citing media reports and leaks. There was no indication that his prediction would come true | P19

CCS stamp on Rafale-M deal today?

Navy prefers it over F-18 Super Hornet for its aircraft carrier INS Vikrant

SHAHID FARIDI @ New Delhi

FILE PHOTO

THE Cabinet Committee on Security (CCS) headed by Prime Minister Narendra Modi is likely to clear the multi-billion dollar acquisition of 26 Rafale Marine fighters at its meeting on Wednesday.

Sources said that the Indian Navy has expressed its preference for the French fighter aircraft Rafale Marine over US' F-18 Super Hornet. A proposal for the purchase of Rafale Marine has been sent to the CCS.

The Indian Air Force has already acquired 36 Rafale fighters. The commonality of fleet and the resultant savings on training, repairs and maintenance have reportedly tilted the scale in favour of Dassault's Rafale Marine. The two versions of the aircraft have over 80% common features.

These aircraft will be deployed on India's indigenously developed aircraft carrier INS Vikrant.

According to sources, the Ministry of Defence has worked out a comprehensive contract, including the Performance-based Logistics, which will ensure that the Original Equipment Manufacturer will be responsible for the overall maintenance of the aircraft and the supply of spares. Dassault will also build a maintenance facility for the Rafales on INS Vikrant, besides one in Goa. The company will train the naval aviation ground crew, besides training the pilots.

The fighters will be fully loaded with all maritime systems, including the maritime search radar that is capable of detecting submarines and warships in the sea.

The price of the aircraft has not been revealed yet, but sources said it will be considerably lower than the IAF version. The government has decided to make the acquisition through an inter-governmental agreement rather than going in for an open tender.

Rafale-M has been locked in a tight fight with Boeing's Super Hornet. Sources said the Indian Navy brass was mighty impressed by the Rafale's capabilities during a joint exercise in India recently and asked the ministry of defence to close the deal with the French vendor.

The Indian Navy has been exploring options to replace its aging MiG-29K as a short-term solution. India has been working on developing its own twin-engine deck-based fighters as a long-term solution to its need for carrier-based fighters. But since there are still some years before the aircraft is indigenously developed, the Navy has decided to go in for the acquisition to meet its requirement.

The CCS includes the ministers for defence, home, finance, external affairs and the national security advisor.

SC bid to explore better option on death penalty

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday asked the Centre to submit data to help explore a more dignified, less painful and socially acceptable way of death other than hanging while executing capital punishment.

A bench of Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud and Justice P S Narasimha said a relook would be possible only after considering better data. It asked the Centre to compile data specifying the impact of death by hanging in terms of pain, whether science and technology has suggested any other method of execution consistent with human dignity and whether they are available in India or abroad.

The CJI said although the court cannot tell the legislature to adopt a particular method for executing death sentences, it could constitute a small committee to take a relook. "We cannot tell the legislature that you adopt this method. But you can certainly argue that something may be more humane. We can look into any scientific study which shows a method is far less painful and more humane. Burden is on the Union to constantly make a survey and study," the CJI said.

He added that the committee could consist of experts from national law universities, professors of law, doctors and scientific persons.

Actor Chetan held for hate tweet, in judicial custody

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

KANNADA actor and activist Chetan aka Chetan Kumar Ahimsa was on Tuesday arrested by Seshadripuram police on charges of hurting religious sentiments. He was produced before a magistrate who remanded him in judicial custody.

In his tweet on Monday morning, the actor stated, "Hindutva is built on LIES. Savarkar: Indian 'nation' began when Rama defeated Ravana & returned to Ayodhya, a lie. 1992: Babri Masjid is 'birthplace of Rama', a lie. 2023: Urigowda-Nanjegowda are 'killers' of Tipu, a lie. Hindutva can be defeated by TRUTH, truth is EQUALITY."

Hours after the tweet was posted, a certain Shivakumar filed a complaint with Seshadripuram police, stating that Chetan Ahimsa's post had hurt the sentiments of Hindus. P7

Run to create awareness on water conservation

ENS @ Bengaluru

IN a bid to inculcate the idea of public participation in water conservation, Indian Plumbing Association (IPA) will be organising 'IPA Neerathon', a Water Awareness Festival – Run for Water, conceived on the Centre's 'Water Vision @ 2047' on April 9 at St Joseph's Indian High School, Vittal Mallya Road. Over a thousand runners are expected to participate in IPA Neerathon 2023, including the entire construction fraternity of architects, builders and consultants. IPA has signed up with the cream of runners to be brand ambassadors.

"There is an urgent need to act now to conserve freshwater and reuse treated water. If we consider one drop per second of water being wasted would lead to a wastage of 130 litres of water from a single tap, a 2 mm stream of leaking water per second would amount to a wastage of 29,520 litres from a single tap, every month. It is therefore highly important to create awareness and behavioural changes that influence the way people look at water conservation. Through IPA Neerathon 2023, we aim to create awareness to enable people to take small steps that would greatly help our future generations," said B K Prasad, chair, IPA Bengaluru Chapter.

IPA Neerathon will have three categories -- 10 km, 5 km and 3 km runs -- and will have 30 cash prizes, amounting to Rs 1.76 lakh. While the 10k and 5k runs will be competitive categories, the 3k marathon will be a fun run.

Those interested can register on the website: www.ipaneerathon.com.

MINISTER JUNKS CLAIMS OF ROAD THRU LAKE, GREENS DIFFER

Activists want press statement from BBMP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING reports of a road being built through the Hosakerehalli Lake in Rajarajeshwari Nagar, Horticulture Minister and area MLA Munirathna stated that no permanent road is being built inside the Hosakerehalli lake. He, however, admitted that a temporary road was built only to clear silt.

A banner placed by the BBMP at Hosakerehalli Lake in RR Nagar.

"The lake is spread over 50 acres and silt over the last 100 years has collected there. With the monsoon round the corner and de-silting required, a good road was needed. The BBMP is taking up the work under the chief minister's special grant," he said. The minister contended that there is nothing illegal, and no realty firm is being helped. Everything is happening as per rules. The silt will be removed and tender conditions are being followed, he said.

"The lake will be developed and it will also have a park. It will be a model lake in RR Nagar," Munirathna stressed, further stating that following the confusion created by some people with ulterior motives, the BBMP has put up a banner related to the work to avoid rumours and negative publicity.

Corroborating the minister's version, the Executive Engineer of BBMP Storm Water Drains, Megha said that as part of lake improvement, BBMP is building a retaining wall near the lake bund. "There is no information of a road being built. As far as I know, the retaining wall is being built by the SWD department," said the BBMP official.

However, lake activists said officials here are not giving information about the work being done and hundreds of truckloads of debris are being brought inside the lake area. "The Karnataka Tank Conservation Development Authority has not given any approval and BBMP officials are not giving any correct information," said Joseph Hoover, a conservationist.

He added, "All will be at peace if the BBMP can issue a press statement assuring people that no road is being built in the middle of Hosakerehalli lake."

E-way service roads will be completed: NHAI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AFTER a stretch of the Bengaluru-Mysuru expressway was flooded less than a week after it was inaugurated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) carried out an inspection of the expressway, including the stretch of Sangabasavana Doddi near Ramanagara which was waterlogged.

Some people had to cut open the mesh to go reach their villages or cross the road.

NHAI assured that they are working to address the complaints raised by commuters, and various measures have been taken.

The officials clarified the flooding took place after villagers dumped soil on the drain. NHAI has laid two rows of pipes to drain out the water.

Regarding the expansion joint at Bidadi, an NHAI press release said that the road is now open for traffic. NHAI said chain link fencing will be maintained strictly, and fence-repairing will be given top priority to ensure safety of commuters on the six-lane high-speed corridor.

"Local residents have flagged the non-availability of service road. This is an access-controlled highway, with provision of 112 km two-lane service road on either side. The NHAI is making the service road," NHAI said, adding that a a robust incident management system that includes deployment of ambulances, patrol vehicles and cranes to address emergencies and vehicle breakdown has been put in place. An estimated 55,000 passenger car units are using the expressway and the travel time has reduced to 1.5 hours from 4 hours.

Right-wingers pitch for 'Hindavi' meat, civil society criticises move

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

WITH Hosatodku (New Beginning), a Hindu festival, falling on Thursday -- a day after Ugadi, Hindu groups in Bengaluru are pitching for jhatka meat under the name 'Hindavi'.

Mune Gowda, who struck upon the idea of 'Hindavi' tag and who promotes the jhatka cut meat among Hindus, said, "Last year, under the Hindavi brand, we opened four stalls in Bengaluru and on the outskirts. This year we have 18 stalls spread across Bengaluru. We have stalls in Kammanahalli, Ittamadu, Dasrahalli, Sanjay Nagar, Geddalahalli, Yelahanka, Indiranagar, Tannery Road, Horamavu, Annapoorneshwari Nagar and other places."

'Address real issues'

But activists criticised such plans by right wingers. Maitreyi Krishnan, a member of NGO Bahutva Karnataka, said, "The efforts by Sangh Parivar to communalise issues and divide people will not be tolerated. The real issues today are unemployment and trampling of workers' rights. Instead of addressing these issues, efforts to divide people on grounds of religion show their anti-people attitude. Our Constitution speaks of the importance of fraternity, and we will do everything to ensure that it is upheld."

Echoing her, writer Divya Swamy said that as an upper-caste Hindu woman who is somewhat religious, she finds it ghastly when divisive forces cry wolf claiming "Hinduphobia".

"Ugadi is a big festival for me, and according to tradition, the following day is celebrated with a meaty feast. Meat is an integral part of celebrating non-Brahmanical Hindu festivals. Most Hindus are not Brahmins. It should not be so hard to live and let live." she said.

FERRA AERO MoU WITH DYNAMATIC TECH

ENS @ Bengaluru

FERRA Aerospace India through Queensland-based Ferra Engineering Australia has inked an MoU with Dynamatic Technologies Ltd to enhance its scale and capabilities in strategic aerospace manufacturing.

The MoU was signed by Ferra Aerospace MD and GM Sridhar Chintha and Dynamatic Technologies CEO and MD Udayant Malhoutra in the presence of Treasurer and Minister for Trade and Investment Queensland Cameron Dick, CEO of Trade and Investment Queensland Justin McGowan and officials from the Queensland government during the Treasurer's India Trade Mission.

Commenting on the partnership, Cameron said, "Support and advancement of companies like Ferra diversifies our economy and builds on our existing skills base in Queensland."

While David Rogers, Group CFO - Ferra Engineering, said succeeding in these opportunities allows the strengthening of its industrial base within the Indian subsidiary, Udayant noted that the pact will enable the development of new products that are specific to customer requirements. "This collaboration will fast-track the production and development of aerospace components using the state-of-the-art facilities and resources available at Ferra Aerospace and Dynamatic in Bengaluru, India."

B'luru readies for 11-day Karaga from March 29

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE 11-day annual Bengaluru Karaga festival will begin on March 29, and the Karaga will be held on April 6, 2023, said BBMP officials on Tuesday.

Accordingly, the BBMP officials said they will be approving Rs 75 lakh for this year's Karaga and will also release an advance amount of Rs 40 lakh from the previous year's balance amount.

Dharmarayaswamy Temple Trust president K Satish and MLA Uday Garudachar attended the preparatory meeting organised by BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath at the Palike head office on Tuesday, where the Bengaluru Karaga poster was also released, along with the programme schedule.

Speaking to reporters, Girinath said the Karaga festival will start from March 29 by hoisting of the Rathotsava flag. The main Karaga will be held on the night of April 6. He said the Dharmarayaswamy Temple Trust had appealed to the BBMP to allocate funds for the distribution of fruits this time to all the devotees as the festival falls during summer.

"We will offer fruits to about 5,000 Veerakumaras, Vanikula Kshatriya community members, and the general public, who will come to witness the Karaga, with the additional funds. No political banners will be put up during the festival due to the Model Code of Conduct," Satish said.

Garudachar said that although the Model Code of Conduct will be in place by then, the festival will go on peacefully without many restrictions and the Karaga will stop at the Hazrat Tawakkal Mustan Saheb Dargah at Cottonpet for a brief period early in the morning, as a symbol of religious harmony. The festival will conclude on April 8.

SBI organises Chartered Accountant Meet in city

BENGALURU: The State Bank of India (SBI) conducted an SBI Chartered Accountant (CA) Meet on Monday, which was inaugurated by General Manager S Radhakrishnan. Appreciating the role of CAs in the growth of business for clients, both quantitatively and qualitatively, he emphasised that SBI has a prime responsibility towards economic growth through supporting the industry and contributing to the startup ecosystem. The Digital Banking Unit (DBU) made a presentation for the benefit of businesses and institutions about the product and services offered, and explained how they can benefit a large section of the business community, educational and other institutions. In addition, the SME Department and Retail Treasury Marketing Unit also made a presentation about the SME and treasury products of the bank.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

22ND March : The new space race is proceeding fast, with bases planned for the Moon and then Mars. The big question for astrologers is how to work out horoscopes for other planets. It can be done in theory, but it may be quite different from what we are used to, with a totally different sky. I am hoping that we can carry on as we are for now, though!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Today's sensitive Moon lands in an extraordinarily favourable region of your chart and brings you no end of potential for both fun and self-improvement. Family affairs should put the spotlight on children and their interests. In fact, the young-at-heart stand to do well.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Restlessness rises, and you could even be tempted to move home! One way or another there seems to be a great need to improve your domestic existence, perhaps to introduce a splash of colour. At work, any personal friction can be overcome with a willingness to say 'sorry'.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The Moon is now bound to trigger some of the livelier aspects of your personality. If you were to spend the whole day chattering away and generally expressing your latest opinions, this would be perfect. Mind you, you'd probably be wise to keep at least half an eye on practical responsibilities!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You really do have a chance to make a fresh start in financial affairs. On one level it's a good day for picking up bargains, but look around and you'll discover ways in which you can boost your long-term prosperity. Perhaps a social liaison offers the security you're looking for.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
The Moon plays a curious role in your chart, suggesting a simultaneous rise in confidence and increase in sensitivity. This is an ideal time to launch yourself into a brave new existence, although there is no pressing need to act today. Any ventures initiated over the next three days will be very important.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Secrecy comes naturally to you. This is not because you wish to deceive anybody, just your belief that certain things are private and not for other people's eyes or ears. You're in an imaginative mood and mystical truths make more sense to you than the so-called facts.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Socially, your life is looking up. Although there have doubtless been some disappointments, you have to see that what is truly necessary now is a willingness to voluntarily let go of certain emotional ties. You never know - loved ones might like the new you!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Professionally you are still on to a winner. In all areas there seems to be a great deal to gain from seeking out fresh responsibilities and pursuing new ambitions. If there should be any setbacks then, strange to say, the way is being opened for even greater success.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Sometimes it's not what people do that's important, but what they think. In other words, philosophical considerations should be taken seriously. You may think they're irrelevant, but you should realise that what you believe shapes your actions and controls your future. Oh, and welcome any new long-distance contacts.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Business prospects have seldom been stronger, even if there's some information which cannot be trusted, not to mention people who are unreliable. There is much to gain from launching into some new venture as long as you keep your options wide open. Domestic improvements could be high on the agenda, with bargains to be had.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
This could be a remarkable time for personal relationships, with the chance of a highly significant meeting rising by the hour. Indeed, your life could be changed by the people who are soon to walk into it. Could that be a good thing? Well, yes, if you handle it right.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There seems to be much to do on the work front at the moment, and if you can possibly get ahead of yourself, so much the better. It's also a perfect moment to put other people first, encouraging them to do their best and offering them your full support.

HC GIVES CLARITY ON ACQUISITION OF PROPERTY BY HINDU WOMEN

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Tuesday ruled that the property acquired by a Hindu woman through partition cannot be construed to be an acquisition by way of inheritance and her legal heirs would acquire the rights of such property after her death by way of intestate succession.

"... the legislature has used the word inheritance in the light of intestate succession and Section 15(2) carved out an exception to the general rule mentioned in Section 15(1) Hindu Succession Act. Therefore, the acquisition of property by a female Hindu either by Will or Gift will also include the acquisition by way of a partition in the family. Once there is a partition and properties have been divided by metes and bounds, it becomes the absolute property of such sharers. If the sharer had any surviving heirs at the time of partition, the property may become the joint family property of the acquirer and his family members," the court said.

Justice CM Joshi passed the order while allowing an appeal filed by a 72-year-old agriculturist, Basanagouda, in 2010 against the judgment and decree passed by the trial court and district court in Raichur in 2008 and 2009, respectively.

Basanagouda married Eshwaramma in 1960, who was the owner of a piece of land measuring 22 acres and 18 guntas at Athanur in Manvi taluk. The property was acquired through oral partition between her father and brothers and later it was recorded in the form of a memorandum of partition and registered in 1974.

After the death of his wife in 1998, Basanagouda became an exclusive legal heir. The couple had no children. However, the name of a brother of Eshwaramma remained in the record of rights due to an error. Taking advantage of this, her brothers started obstructing peaceful possession and enjoyment of the land by her husband. Basanagouda filed the suit before the trial court as well as the district court. Both courts dismissed it. Subsequently, Basanagouda filed an appeal before the high court.

Allowing the appeal by declaring Basanagouda as the absolute owner of the property, the high court quashed the decree of both courts.

Noting that neither the trial court nor the district judge has taken pains to look into the averments made in the memorandum of partition which categorically mentioned that the sharers thereof are the absolute owners of the property, the high court said that the courts did not critically examine the provisions of Section 15(2) of the Act and memorandum. They went under the presumption that a partition deed does not create rights, but only recognises the inheritance of property, the court added.

BBMP TO UP DAILY RT-PCR TESTING

With Covid-19 cases increasing, and the Karnataka health department issuing directives, BBMP on Tuesday ordered an increase in RT-PCR tests. BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said at present, 4,000 tests are being done which will now be increased to 6,000 tests a day. According to the BBMP health department, Bengaluru has recorded 413 Covid-19 cases, of which 343 have recovered and there has been one death. Officials said the deceased was aged and had comorbidities.

BBMP takes up clinical audit with an uptick in Covid-19 hospitalisation

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH Bengaluru witnessing a spike in Covid-19 cases and subsequent hospitalisation, the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) is carrying out a clinical audit of those hospitalised and deaths.

BBMP is keen to know the effect on the lungs of those hospitalised for Covid treatment, their vaccination status, comorbidities and to investigate if there is any simultaneous infection of H3N2 and Covid-19.

The total Covid positive cases reported in Karnataka on March 21 was 113 of which 71 were reported from Bengaluru, according to the state health bulletin. The report also said that 78 patients were admitted to hospitals, 13 were in the ICU and majority of them are from Bengaluru.

"For the last few days there is an increase in Covid-19 positive cases in Karnataka, with a majority of them in Bengaluru. Hospitalisation has also increased in BBMP limits and there is requirement of ventilator support. It is necessary to investigate if there is any co-infection (simultaneous infection) of H3N2 and Covid-19 as both share similar respiratory infection, signs and symptoms," said a TAC member.

BBMP Special Commissioner (Health) Dr KV Thrilok Chandra said, "BBMP has taken up clinical audit of Covid-19 patients who are hospitalised and the death cases. There are chances of co-infections where a patient is infected with both H3N2 and Covid. We are conducting the clinical audit and we are also keen find out the the involvement of lungs in infection the patients."

Man murders wife, tries to kill her son over affair

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A man murdered his 32-year-old wife and tried to kill her two-and-half-year-old son in Saraipalya, in Hennur police station limits, on Monday night. The woman was reportedly having an extramarital affair, which is the reason for the murder.

The deceased was identified as Tahseen Baby, while her husband Sheikh Sohel, a tailor, was arrested by the police.

Police said the couple is from the same town in West Bengal, and was married for 14 years, and had two children. They had moved to Bengaluru and were living in KG Halli in 2013.

When Sohel came to know that Tahseen was having an extramarital affair with a certain Syed Nadeem, a car driver, Sohel shifted his family back to Kolkata about six years ago. However, his wife deserted them and came to Bengaluru to live with Nadeem, and they had a son out of their relationship.

"On Monday night, Sohel went to Tahseen's house in Afzal Layout in Saraipalya, picked a fight with her and attacked her with a knife. He slit her throat and stabbed her son in the thigh, in an attempt to kill him. Hearing the commotion, neighbours alerted police, who swung into action and arrested the accused immediately. The boy was admitted to hospital and is out of danger," police added.

Kolar conundrum poses more problems than solutions for Congress

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

THE Congress high command's strategy of withdrawing Opposition leader Siddaramaiah from the contest in Kolar to avoid a possible defeat seems to have caused more trouble than finding a solution to the Grand Old Party in the run-up to the Assembly elections.

It is likely that even before a formal announcement of seats is made, rumours will spread about the high command not fielding Siddaramaiah from Kolar that will affect the prospects of Siddaramaiah as well as aspiring party candidates from Kolar and neighbouring Chikkaballapur districts.

Within a day of the rumour that party senior leader Rahul Gandhi asked Siddaramaiah not to contest from Kolar and to choose a safe seat like Varuna, it has had an effect on the image of the Congress Legislature Party leader. But there has been pressure on the party to field Siddaramaiah from both Kolar and Varuna. For the party, it has been a bitter development, demoralising the rank and file, who were gearing up to take on JDS and BJP. Many councilors, panchayat presidents and activists who joined Congress from other parties extending support to Siddaramaiah too have been left disheartened.

It has also led to cracks in Siddaramaiaha's long-standing friendship with other leaders, including Ramesh Kumar, Nazeer Ahmad, Srinivasa Gowda and Krishne Byre Gowda, who had influenced him to contest from Kolar. Their hope was to cash in on the success of the KC Valley project that has changed the landscape of drought-hit Kolar district

Disputing an internal survey report that has expressed apprehensions over Siddaramaiah's chances of victory in Kolar, former MLA Sudhakar said the situation is favourable and Siddaramaiah will win by a big margin. Siddaramaiah backing out of Kolar will have horrible consequences in five-six constituencies and will demoralise the cadres, who had high expectations of seeing development in both Kolar and Chikkaballapur districts, he added.

Thousands of cadres are now planning a massive protest in front of Siddaramaiah's house, wanting to know why he should withdraw when they are working on the ground.

Opposition parties have seized the issue by branding Siddaramaiah a political coward running away from the contest to avoid defeat. Many insiders too feel that it has inflicted an irreparable damage to his stature with four decades of colorful political history. They observed that a psychological advantage has been handed over to opposition parties.

On Monday, all eyes were on Belagavi, where Siddaramaiah was to speak to Rahul and AICC president on the emotions of the party cadres from Kolar and Chikkaballapur districts and to go ahead and contest from Kolar. The Ahinda leader had also assured his followers that he has an open mind on contesting from any seat and will not bow to his rivals within the party.

Cong to announce first list with 100 names today

Siddu free to choose any constituency to contest from, says DKS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

KPCC president DK Shivakumar said here on Tuesday that Congress will release its first list with the names of 100 candidates on Wednesday.

Shivakumar, who visited Adi Chunchanagiri with his family and offered puja to Lord Byraveshwara, said the Congress central screening committee had finalised the list, but had decided to release it after Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's visit to Belagavi.

On the confusion over Opposition leader Siddaramaiah contesting from Kolar, Shivakumar said Siddaramaiah is free to contest from Kolar, Varuna, Chamundeshwari and Badami and is free to choose his constituency.

Asked about the pressure mounting on Bengaluru Rural MP and his brother DK Suresh to contest from Ramanagara, Shivakumar said Suresh wants to continue as a Member of Parliament. He said they will ensure that the Congress candidate wins in Ramanagara. The constituency is high profile as JDS has finalised the candidature of party senior leader HD Kumaraswamy's son Nikhil Gowda from there.

On the controversy surrounding Urigowda and Nanjegowda, who were assumed to have killed Mysuru ruler Tipu Sultan, he said the AdiChunchanagiri seer has advised BJP leaders against promoting falsehoods. Shivakumar said Urigowda and Nanjegowda should not be included in school textbooks. "Have Ashwath Narayan (higher education minister) and CT Ravi (BJP national general secretary) read about it in school, he asked.

AMAVASYA DELAYED CONGRESS' FIRST LIST BY A DAY?

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

DID the inauspicious Amavasya (no-moon day) prevent Congress from announcing its first list of candidates? Normally, the names are announced early to allow candidates to campaign in their constituency, but the no-moon day has delayed the process by a day. KPCC president DK Shivakumar said on Tuesday that "the candidate list will be announced on Ugadi on Wednesday".

Senior Congress leader and former deputy chief minister Dr G Parameshwara said, "It is Amavasya and is considered inauspicious. We will announce it on Ugadi day which is auspicious."

KPCC working president Saleem Ahmed too said, "Yesterday (Monday) was Rahul Gandhi's visit and today (Tuesday) is Amavasya. We will announce it on Ugadi." Sources said the process to prepare the first list was not without hurdles and a team of troubleshooters ensured that around 20 names were included in the list despite objections. On the second list, Congress leaders said there were objections, issues, claims and counter-claims made. The second list will come out in a few days, they said.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolar/ Mysuru

CONFUSION continues over which constituency Congress leader Siddaramaiah will favour, with the leader himself saying he has left it to the high command.

It is said that party leader Rahul Gandhi advised him to return to his stronghold Varuna, and termed Kolar a tough bet, following which Siddaramaiah put off his visit to the latter district. This led to a protest by party workers before his residence on Tuesday morning, and chaos in Kolar, the constituency he had himself announced some weeks ago.

As speculation mounted, Siddaramaiah said he is not searching for any "safe constituencies", as claimed by his detractors. He told reporters during his visit to Heggavadi in Chamarajanagar, for a condolence meeting for MP Dhruvanarayana, that he had left the choice to the central leadership. "The first list of Congress candidates will be revealed tomorrow, I don't know if my name is there or not... The decision of the high command is my decision, I have confidence of winning the polls. I am not searching for any safe constituency, people from various constituencies are demanding that I contest," he said. He said his son Yathindra's name is finalised for Varuna, but he is unaware of the high command's decision.

Faced with the protesters, Siddaramaiah reportedly assured them that he is with them. "I will discuss with family members and inform tomorrow, please do not protest," he told them.

The decision to protest had been taken by some Congress leaders who had chaired a meeting of Scheduled Caste, Vokkaliga and Kuruba leaders. On Tuesday morning, hundreds of Congress leaders and workers reached his residence by bus, in cars and on two-wheelers. They raised slogans and appealed to him to contest from Kolar, and assured him that they would work round the clock for his victory. Some workers even said that if their leader does not agree, they would die by suicide. They also raised slogans,"Barale beku, barale beiku, Kolarakka barale beku." They claimed that the report submitted to the high command is incorrect, and a resurvey should be done.

Congress leaders VR Sudarshan, Nazeer Ahmed, Anil Kumar, district committee president Lakshminarayana and Youth Congress leaders also explained to Siddaramaiah that he has a good chance of victory. They claimed that there is no lack of leadership, as booth committees have already been formed.

Meanwhile, opposition leaders, including Kolar MP S Muniswamy, and former minister and BJP aspirant Varthur R Prakash said they are aware that Siddaramaiah will not contest from Kolar.

SWIPE AT MODI

Commenting on Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to the state, Siddaramaiah said, "We prepared the 'meal' and the Prime Minister is coming to serve it to the people. We were the ones who initiated the Mysuru expressway, gave land for IIT, but the Prime Minister is coming now to inaugurate them and claim credit."

Poll panel aims at high voter turnout in cities

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

THE Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) Karnataka is paying special attention to increase the polling percentage in booths that have recorded low voter turnout, especially in urban areas. The state has over 57,300 polling stations, and hearteningly, there has been an increase in voting percentage in the state over the last few years. But constituencies falling under urban areas are laggards and have been recording a low voter turnout as compared to the state average. In the last one decade, the state polling percentage is above 70, whereas in urban areas, especially in cities like Bengaluru, it is hardly 50 per cent.

CEO Karnataka Manoj Kumar Meena told The New Indian Express that in 9,000 polling booths across the state, the polling percentage is lesser than the average of the constituencies they fall under. There are 73 such Assembly constituencies. "We have identified such polling stations. Our people will visit those particular polling stations, interact with voters and listen to their woes. If anything from outside helps increase the polling percentage, we will do it," he said. According to him, sometimes, even reasons like keeping a place clean, better roads and other better amenities will help them increase the turnout.

Voter turnout in Assembly polls

2018 : 72.57 % | 2008: 64.68 %

2013: 71.45 % | 2004: 65.17 %

The average voter turnout in urban areas is around 50 per cent

In Bengaluru, a large number of voters stay in apartments, small and big. It is a challenge to reach voter slips to these people. "This could also be one of the reasons why voters might not have turned up at polling booths. This time, we are planning to reach out to them with the help of resident welfare associations or apartment associations. We want to reach 100 per cent slips to voters. We hope to get more voters," he added.

Cong: Modi flagging off 'half-baked' Metro line

ENS @ Bengaluru

AICC general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala accused the State Government of doing injustice to the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes by not sending a proposal to the Centre on increasing their reservation.

Speaking to media persons in Bengaluru, the Congress leader said the State Government's announcement on increasing reservation for the SCs from 15% to 17% and the STs from 3% to 7 % will not have any value until it is included in the 9th Schedule of the Constitution. "There is no use of the announcement. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and union ministers from Karnataka should resign," he said.

Surjewala questioned why PM Narendra Modi is inaugurating Whitefield Metro Line on March 25 when the project is not complete.

Former Deputy chief minister G Parameshwara said the BJP leaders kept talking about increasing the reservation, but the government deceived them by not sending a proposal to the Centre.

"A complete clampdown has been instituted by the Bommai government from anyone even entering the stations to take a picture of this half-baked work," Parameshwara added.

PM TO INAUGURATE WHITEFIELD METRO LINE ON MARCH 25, ADDRESS RALLY IN DAVANAGERE

Prime Minister Narendra Modi will inaugurate the Whitefield Line of Namma Metro in Bengaluru on March 25 (Saturday) and travel by the metro. The PM will be in Karnataka on Saturday to take part in various programmes in Bengaluru, Chikkaballapur and Davanagere. Modi will arrive at the HAL Airport in Bengaluru in the morning and travel by helicopter to Chikkaballapur to inaugurate Sri Madhusudan Sai Institute of Medical Sciences and Research. The PM will fly back to Bengaluru in the afternoon to inaugurate the Whitefield Metro Line and will ride in the metro. Modi will then proceed to Davanagere and address a public meeting, proceed to Shivamogga and emplane for Delhi from the new Shivamogga airport, according to an official press release. The BJP's Vijay Sankalpa Yatra will culminate in Davanagere and nearly 10 lakh people are expected to attend the rally to be addressed by the prime minister.

HOMECOMING?

Chinchansur quits BJP, may join Cong soon

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI @ Kalaburagi

SENIOR BJP leader Baburao Chinchansur has resigned as MLC.

Chinchansur, who handed over his resignation letter to Chairman of the Legislative Council Basavaraj Horatti on Monday evening, told TNIE on Tuesday that he has also quit BJP. The resignation was accepted by the chairman.

Chinchansur, who was with the Congress before joining the BJP in 2018, said that he will announce a decision on his future political course on Wednesday (Ugadi) as Tuesday was an inauspicious day because of "amavasya". On the reasons for quitting BJP, Chinchansur said that he will reveal everything on Wednesday

According to Congress sources, there is no other option for Chinchansur except joining Congress. Even if he joins JDS, it will not give him ticket to contest from Gurmitkal in Yadgir district as the party has a sitting MLA from that constituency.

The sources said Chinchansur was unhappy w ith BJP for not giving him a cabinet berth. It is also learnt that the BJP did not promise him that he will be given ticket to contest from Gurmitkal in the assembly elections and make him a minister if the party comes to power. It is certain that Chinchansur will join the Congress within a week and contest from Gurmitkal constituency, sources in the Congress said. It may be recalled here that in February, addressing a public function, Chinchansur promised to defeat Priyank Kharge in the assembly elections.

Name deletion: CEO arranges designated place for a week

ENS @ Bengaluru

TO receive objections to the proposed deletion of names of voters in Shivajinagar, Rajarajeshwari Nagar and Shanthinagar Assembly constituencies, the Chief Electoral Officer Karnataka will arrange a designated location in these areas, where an official will be available for seven days during working hours.

The CEO Karnataka had identified 16,040 voters, who are either dead or shifted from the previous address, after field verification and house-to-house survey in the three constituencies. A media release from the CEO Karnataka stated that the district election officer (DEO) and BBMP chief commissioner have been directed to ensure due steps before proceeding with the deletion of names in the three constituencies. The Election Commission of India had directed the CEO office to take necessary action as per directions of the Karnataka High Court in the matter.

Rahul visit to poll-bound K'taka won't have any impact: Bommai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hubballi

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday said former AICC president Rahul Gandhi's visit to poll-bound Karnataka will not have any impact.

Speaking to reporters here, the CM termed Congress' guarantees as bogus announcements. "His (Rahul) Bharat Jodo Yatra did not have any impact. His recent visit to Belagavi will not influence state politics," Bommai said.

The CM said people of Karnataka will not give any value to Rahul's words, especially after his recent remarks in the UK regarding the state of democracy in India.

Bommai said the Congress has a track record of not implementing the promises it makes. "It is their track record. For instance, in Chhattisgarh, the party promises Rs 1,000 to each household... they did not give it in the first four years...now in the last year of the tenure, they are giving. So these are not guarantee cards, but visiting cards," he added.

Further lashing out at CLP leader Siddaramaiah over allegations of corruption against his government, Bommai said complaints were lodged with the Lokayukta against the Congress leader over several cases, including the redo of Arkavathy Layout. "Siddaramaiah raising the issue of corruption is like the pot calling the kettle black," he added.

He said discussions are underway with legal experts to conduct a judicial inquiry into 59 "corruption cases" of Siddaramaiah's government, and a decision will be made soon.

On the ongoing controversy over Uri Gowda and Nanje Gowda, the CM said, "Several historical facts of India and Karnataka are twisted. Once the actual facts are established after research, truth will prevail. Moreover, everyone knows who was involved in the killing of Tipu... but some people can't digest the truth."

BOMMAI SAYS HE WILL BE CM AFTER POLLS TOO

Belagavi: Chief Minister Bommai said that he will remain as the CM after the polls. This comes amid speculation that the BJP top brass may pick a new CM if it returns to power.

CONG GUARANTEE CARD IS DUPLICATE CARD: HDK

Mysuru: JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy called Congress' 'guarantee card' as 'duplicate card'. He took a jibe at CLP leader Siddaramaiah's hunt for a safe seat. "My sympathies are with Siddaramaiah... it shows his lack of confidence," he said. Kumaraswamy said he has no plans of fighting from two seats. "Speculation is rife that ex-MP Ramya will face me in Channapatna. I am not bothered about my opponents," he said.

2 workers suffocate to death in manhole

Panchayat officer asked victims, both sole breadwinners, to clean drain; complaint filed

G SUBHASH CHANDRA
@Davanagere

TWO civic workers who were cleaning a drainage at Basavanakote village in Jagaluru taluk on Tuesday fell ill and died at Chigateri district hospital.

According to eyewitnesses, Dundappa (45) and Nagappa (42) from Basavanakote village died due to suffocation. Shashidhar Patil, panchayat development officer of Basavanakote village, asked Dundappa and Nagappa to clean the clogged drainage without giving them any safety gear. This resulted in the workers inhaling toxic gas emanating from the drainage. They were immediately shifted to Arsikere PHC after they complained of uneasiness. They were given first aid at Arsikere and taken to Chigateri district hospital where they died.

Both were sole breadwinners. Meanwhile, executive officer of Jagaluru taluk panchayat Chandrashekhar said Dundappa and Nagappa fell ill while they were cleaning the drainage. Further investigations are on, he added.

M Shivanna Kote, Chairperson, Safai Karamchari Commission, said, "I have sought a report from the Deputy Commissioner, Superintendent of Police and the ZP CEO on the reasons for the death of two workers."

"We will conduct an inquiry and action will be initiated accordingly. The official, who had given the work order should be arrested immediately," he said.

Adequate precautions should have been taken before asking the workers to get into the manhole. The workers got into the 4-foot manhole without any safety gear. This resulted in their death. "I will visit the family members of Dundappa and Nagappa on Thursday and ensure that all benefits are extended to them," Shivanna said.

Bilichodu police have registered a complaint.

First in country: Feminine pronouns used in Kerala law

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@T'Puram

KERALA Public Health Act 2023, the first law in the country written using feminine pronouns was passed by the assembly on Tuesday. The law incorporates measures to deal with the new public health challenges and seeks to empower women by using female pronouns.

According to state Health Minister Veena George, "It is the first such law passed in the legislative history of the country using feminine pronouns. So far 'he' included 'she' as well in the laws. But this law uses feminine pronouns entirely. She in the text means he and all other genders."

The Centre has presented a bill on data (Digital Personal Data Protection Bill, 2022) in the same format but it is yet to become law.

The new law aims to tackle communicable diseases caused by climate change and zoonotic pathogens, as well as non-communicable diseases resulting from lifestyle changes.

The minister emphasised that the new law does not prevent anyone from seeking treatment from any registered medical practitioner. A treating doctor may issue a health certificate based on lab reports on notified infectious diseases. The new act unifies the existing public health laws - the Travancore-Cochin Public Health Act of 1955 and the Madras Public Health Act of 1939. Some terms and designations related to public health have been changed.

Prosecution seeks time to object to bail

BASED on the complaint, the police filed an FIR against the actor under Sections 295A (deliberate and malicious acts, intended to outrage religious feelings) and 505(2) (statements creating or promoting enmity, hatred) of the IPC.

On Tuesday morning, a police team picked up the actor from his residence at Kumara Park West and took him to the Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Court. While advocates representing Chetan moved a bail petition, the prosecution sought time to file objections. The magistrate remanded the actor in judicial custody and adjourned the hearing, following which Chetan was taken to Bengaluru Central Prison at Parappana Agrahara.

Chetan was arrested in February 2022 for tweeting against a HC judge, who was hearing pleas on hijab case. He was granted bail later. In June 2021, he was questioned by the police over his tweet against Brahmanism.

Woman's body found, sacrifice rumours do rounds

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Koppal

TENSION prevailed in Gabbur village of Koppal district after a partially charred body of a 28-year-old woman was found near her house. The deceased, Netravati Manjunath Kuri, who was a resident of Gabbur village, had delivered a baby a month ago.

Soon after the incident, rumours started doing the rounds that the woman was allegedly sacrificed by treasure hunters. Two senior police officers visited the spot, and appealed to villagers not to heed to rumours till the investigation is completed. They are awaiting the postmortem report.

The victim's family members told the police that Kuri went to the washroom at night, and after sometime, they heard her screaming, and saw fire near the house. Presuming the haystack was on fire, they rushed to the spot and found Kuri partially burnt to death.

"We are investigating all angles including dowry and suicide. As the incident took place at night before Amavasya, the villagers believe treasure hunters are behind it," the officers said, adding the family members have been questioned.

Shivanagouda, a relative of the victim, said, "The deceased had fed her child just before she was found dead."

No coercive steps against Ramoji, Shailaja, says Telangana HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Hyderabad

GIVING a huge relief to Chairman of Mardarshi Chit Funds Ch Ramoji Rao and Managing Director Ch Sailaja, Telangana High Court judge K Surender on Tuesday ordered the respondents not to take any coercive steps against the petitioners in connection with the FIRs registered against them.

The court took note of identical allegations made against the chit fund company though there were no complaints from subscribers. "Filing of multiple FIRs with regard to the same cognizable offence appears to be a breach of the Supreme Court's ruling," the court observed.

The judge pointing to two more petitions pending before the court suggested that the current writ petitions be clubbed to avoid contradictory orders. Against this background, the HC registry is required to forward the writ petitions to the chief justice for appropriate orders to club them.

Senior counsel for petitioners Siddhath Luthra argued that multiple FIRs were intentionally filed and sought shifting of the inquiry to any agency outside Andhra Pradesh. He also made a mention of the fact that not a single subscriber lodged a complaint.

Two individual writs were filed by Ramoji Rao and Sailaja expressing displeasure over the registration of cases by the Crime Investigation Department of Andhra Pradesh.

NOW, SIT SUMMONS BANDI TO GIVE PROOF

Hyderabad : The Special Investigation Team (SIT) investigating the TSPSC question paper leak has summoned BJP State president Bandi Sanjay to appear before it on March 24 with the evidence related to the claims he has made regarding the case. The police are learned to have pasted the SIT notice on a wall of Sanjay's residence as he was not present at home. In the notices, the police quoted Sanjay's statements, published in a vernacular daily. It may be recalled that the SIT headed by AR Srinivas also issued similar notices to TPCC president A Revanth Reddy on Monday.

Kavitha joins issue with ED, submits her phones

AMIT MUKHERJEE @New Delhi

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Tuesday questioned BRS leader K Kavitha for over nine hours in connection with the Delhi excise policy scam. Kavitha, daughter of Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao, left the agency's headquarters in Delhi around 9.40 pm after appearing for the third round of questioning.

According to sources, the questioning revolved around her alleged involvement in the scam, her association with other accused, and her link to the liquor cartel known as the South Group, which is said to have benefited from the Delhi excise policy.

Earlier in the day, the Telangana politician arrived at the ED headquarters around 11.30 am and handed over her phones to the agency. She also submitted a letter addressed to the investigating officer, stating that allegation in the prosecution complaint filed in November 2022 that she destroyed some of her phones used in the past, was an act of malice. "It is baffling to note as to how, why and under what such circumstances agency made such allegations when I was not even summoned or asked any questions whatsoever," she said in the letter.

Although she reportedly submitted around 10 phones to the agency, the exact number was not mentioned in the letter.

Naveen says Third Front off agenda at Mamata meet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bhubaneswar

AMIDST the buzz over meeting his West Bengal counterpart Mamata Banerjee, CM Naveen Patnaik on Tuesday said discussion on a Third Front for the 2024 election is not on the agenda.

"Nothing has been discussed on the Third Front as yet," said Naveen when asked whether there is anything political about his proposed meeting with Mamata.

The BJD had on Monday downplayed the meeting between Naveen and Mamata and maintained nothing political was on the cards.

The BJD's reaction is on the expected lines as the regional outfit has never been a part of any group against BJP or Congress. The two political leaders had also met at Naveen Nivas in April 2017 and stated that no politics was discussed.

Banerjee who arrived here on Tuesday is scheduled to meet Naveen on March 23.

"I will visit Jagannath Temple to offer my prayers to the deities. Odisha chief minister is a senior leader and I will also meet him," she said.

Mamata had recently met SP chief Akhilesh Yadav at Kolkata. The two leaders had said they will maintain distance from BJP and Congress.

NILGIRIS FOREST

HC: No ban on building houses in 150m radius

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

THE Madras High Court has observed that the rules governing sanction of building permission should not be interpreted in a way depriving the rights of the citizens to live with dignity in hill stations.

Justice N Sathish Kumar noted that as far as the Nilgiris is concerned, the forest cover is more than 67% and if Rule 7(2) of Tamil Nadu District Municipalities (Hill Stations) Building Rules, 1993, is interpreted to mean that there is a total prohibition of construction in the land, it will take away the right of the citizens to live with dignity and right of residence which is considered a fundamental right, besides the Constitutional right hold the property.

This rule deals with assignment of land for agricultural or other purposes, including residential purpose, within 150m of reserve forest and wooded land or areas of special interest. Negating the contentions of the Ooty municipality in rejecting an application for permission to construct a residence on a private land, the judge set aside the rejection order and directed the commissioner of the municipality to consider the application.

Fraud case: CBI gets nod for letter rogatory to Vietnam

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

THE CBI special court passed an order to issue a letter rogatory to a competent authority to conduct an investigation in Vietnam to collect documentary and oral evidence from the concerned in relation to a fraud case that led to losses of $250 million to the government exchequer by forging documents and dishonestly supplying low-quality metal scrap in the name of high-value nickel and copper scrap to the Port of Busan in South Korea.

Special Judge for CBI cases E Chandrakala passed the order on March 18, allowing the application filed by the CBI under Section 166(A) of CrPC.

"From the facts and circumstances and materials brought on record as per the application averments made on behalf of CBI, the court is satisfied that certain aspects of the investigation are required to be conducted in the Socialist Republic of Vietnam by collecting the relevant documentary and oral evidence from the concerned persons. Therefore, it is necessary to issue Letter Rogatory to the competent authority for investigation in the Socialist Republic of Vietnam," the court said.

According to the case being probed by the CBI, two firms -- FMPL and FEIPL -- were appointed as business associates of STCL Limited, Bengaluru, a Government of India undertaking. They committed fraud in the matter of merchandising trade transactions of high-value non-ferrous metal scrap which was financed and facilitated by STCL through a letter of credit, opened in favour of the overseas sellers.

Despite burns, forest watcher walked 4km

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

TUNGESH DM, 37, a forest watcher, who suffered 40 per cents burn while trying to douse forest fire in Sakleshpur on February 16, had to walk almost 4km, till he could get help. Another forest watcher, Sunderesh, who was in the team, succumbed to his burn injuries. "Once I recover, I will rejoin my duties. I have been working on controlling forest fire for years. This is the first time, I was trapped," Tungesh said, who was discharged on February 26.

Tungesh told TNIE that they were a team of six on foot patrolling in Sakleshpur range when they saw smoke billowing from forest in Marenahalli section.

The team comprised Manjunath, deputy range forest officer, Sundaresh, guard and four watchers- Tungesh DM, Mahesh, Diwakar and Somashekhar.

"We were on foot patrolling in Sakleshpur range. We had walked around 10- 12 km on the burnt area, trying to assess the situation. When we noticed smoke, we rushed towards the spot and saw swathes of forest ablaze. We started to run uphill since the intensity of fire was lesser on the patch. But strong winds intensified the flame, and we were trapped," he said.

Diwakar and Somashekhar found a spot to jump out from. However, the other four not that lucky. "Within a few minutes, I saw the flames engulfing over 30-40 acres. We suffered burns on our hands, chest, face, hair and legs. Once the flames subsided, we jumped and started to walk out of the area. I called up a local estate manager and the department officials," he said.

Get people tested instead of giving freebies, experts suggest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

WITH the Karnataka assembly elections round the corner, health professionals in the field of cardiology, diabetology and nephrology suggest that instead of freebies, candidates can provide free screening tests (blood sugar, blood pressure, urine and creatinine) to people, to identify lifestyle diseases at an early stage.

Diabetologist Dr Manohar KN, chairman, Karnataka Research Society for the Study of Diabetes in India (KRSSDI), explained that diabetes is the biggest cause of kidney-related ailments. India has the second highest number of people suffering from diabetes after China, hence it is important to keep an eye on parameters like blood/sugar levels regularly, he said. The four tests combined cost around Rs 500 in a government-run health centre, and the cost will go down further if performed on a larger scale, Dr Manohar said.

Speaking at a press briefing organised by the Kidney Warriors Association, in association with the Indian Medical Association (IMA) and Indian Society of Nephrology (ISN), medical professionals highlighted that the prevalence of lifestyle diseases like cardiac arrests, kidney failure, diabetes or high blood pressure are inter-related. Many of them can be prevented if diagnosed at an early stage, they said.

Dr Arvind Kaneevaran, consultant nephrologist, transplant physician and co-founder, Bloom Value Corporation, said that people in India do not have a concept of regular health checkups and do not have family physicians. Only in case of serious ailments do people end up visiting a doctor. The panellists also appreciated the recently inaugurated Namma Clinics in Karnataka, which provide free consultations to people for basic ailments. Since treatment for these lifestyle diseases is expensive, a person who undergoes screening annually post the age of 30, can be diagnosed much earlier.

TAMIL NADU'S FOCUS ON SOCIAL JUSTICE A LESSON FOR OTHERS

The Tamil Nadu budget, presented by finance minister Palanivel Thiaga Rajan on March 20, is a resounding reiteration of DMK's commitment towards social justice. For the first time in India, a state government is implementing a scheme to provide a monthly honorarium of ₹1,000 to all eligible women heads of families. It has allocated ₹7,000 cr for the scheme rollout up to March 2024. What chief minister M K Stalin promised at a public rally in Tiruchy on March 7, 2021, will be a reality two years later. As promised by him, the new government firmly sits on the five foundations—Periyar's social justice, Anna's federalism, Kalaignar's modern development, Kamarajar's educational development and Jeeva's equality. The budget proposals stand testimony to the fact that there is no going back on their stated objectives.

Though it may look like a populist budget, most proposals feed into long-standing demands. For instance, a proposal is to bring all schools run by Adi Dravidar and Tribal Welfare Department under the education department. A massive ₹30,000 cr has been allocated for loans to be given to women self-help groups, while ₹40,299 cr has been earmarked for school education. Interestingly, all these welfare schemes come without compromising the financial discipline of the state. PTR has brought down the revenue deficit by around 52% since 2021 to ₹30,000 cr in the revised estimates for 2022–23 and reiterated that going forward, the state would adopt a smooth glide path to achieve a zero-revenue deficit. Meanwhile, he may have to keep a vigil on the rising debt, which is well within the norms prescribed at 25.63% of the GSDP. By March 31, 2024, TN's outstanding debt is expected to go up to ₹7,26,029 cr.

TN's exclusive agriculture budget has worked well for the state. This year's agri budget has focused on organic farming and millet production. The state has recently released a policy detailing several initiatives to promote organic farming. In 2023, the year of millets, it is also increasing the cultivation area for millets. The budget has also announced special missions for improving the production of moringa, jackfruit, Madurai jasmine, chilli, and curry leaves. States with a sizable agrarian population could emulate the TN model with a separate agri budget.

STOCK-TAKING OF STATUES IN POLL-BOUND K'TAKA

As Karnataka heads into elections, the number of statues of historical greats the government installs rises significantly. Invocation of warriors and caste and community icons and their deification or demonisation has begun. The BJP is the master of this game and has set the tone early, leaving the opposition to react, condemn and attempt to reclaim what are seen as their traditional heroes. While Kranti Veera Sangolli Rayanna, a Kuruba Gowda who fought the British, Kittur Rani Chennamma and Chhatrapati Shivaji are old favourites, the BJP is looking to appropriate Kempe Gowda, the founder of Bengaluru and a Vokkaliga chieftain, to make inroads into the Old Mysuru belt. Simultaneously, it seeks to demonise Tipu Sultan as a communal leader who persecuted Hindus, turning him into a pet hate figure.

Tipu has been a polarising factor in elections for at least a decade. Now, his exploits of having fought the British are being questioned, and so is his death—did the Muslim warrior, given the vaunted title of Tiger of Mysore, die fighting the British as written in history books, or was he killed by two local Vokkaliga warrior brothers, the until-now unknown Uri Gowda and Nanje Gowda? Historians are also puzzled by the sudden propping up of the Gowda brothers and claim they are fictional. For months, there has been a gradual build-up to change the Tipu narrative, starting with the controversial book Tipu Nija Kanasugalu (Tipu's Real Dreams) by Addanda C Cariappa, who, as Rangayana director, adapted it for the stage too. But with the introduction of Uri Gowda and Nanje Gowda, the BJP appears to have bitten off more than it can chew. The Adichunchanagiri Mutt of the dominant Vokkaliga community is concerned that it could portray the community negatively and raise communal tensions. The mutt seer, prompted by Vokkaliga leaders, stepped in to question the historical basis, and stopped film producer and minister Munirathna from producing a film on the brothers, thus aborting the birth of new heroes.

While it is disturbing that history is being blatantly rewritten to suit the ruling party's interests, it is the public which should wise up to the fact that Tipu Sultan belongs to the past and cannot impact the real poll issues of rising prices of fuel, cooking gas and other essentials, corruption, a depressed job market and others. It is up to the opposition to lead the charge and nudge the voter into making an informed choice.

QUICK TAKE

WOMEN-FRIENDLY CITIES

Are smart cities and expanding towns safe for working women? A recent survey by Avtar, a reputed strategy consulting firm, shows Chennai is the ideal city, followed by Pune, Bengaluru, Hyderabad and Mumbai. Delhi doesn't figure in the top 10. Eastern cities, except Kolkata, fare badly. The rankings depend on how life is more accessible and safer for working women and where industries are inclusive and have child-care facilities, counselling options and flexible times. The lagging cities must catch up by ensuring mature, diverse work cultures and supportive corporate ecosystems. Amenable living standards are necessary. So are effective crime response measures.

The lack of organisation and a credible leader to obviate the impulses of corruption and nepotism that run rampant within tells the sorry tale of the Opposition today

DELUSION OF THE GRAND OPPOSITION ALLIANCE FOR 2024

HARDEEP SINGH PURI
Union Minister for Petroleum and Natural Gas and Housing and Urban Affairs

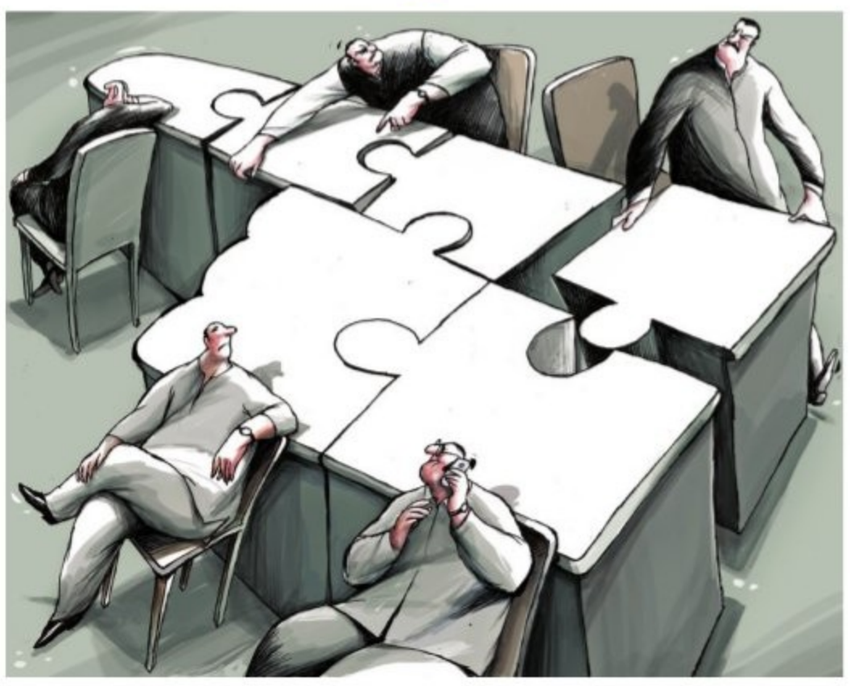
There is talk brewing once again of a grand political alliance in 2024 against the Modi government. Not for the first time in the last few months, some form of combinatorial calculus of anti-BJP forces has been proposed. Proponents would have you believe that 'this time is going to be different', with some eminent leaders convinced that 'equidistance' from the Congress and the BJP is the magic formula. Political leaders of all hues have come forward to stake claim as a matchmaker, kingmaker and compromise leader. The political jargon may be plenty, but the substance still seems woefully lacking. The idea of a Grand Opposition Alliance is the arrogant naivete of those who have still not understood that the Indian political system now rewards performance instead of names.

Alliances were relevant in Indian politics a few decades ago, but their continued usage suggests a deep ignorance of the present political ecology. It is ironic, too, because the leaders who established their constituency on a wave of anti-Congress sentiment in the 80s and 90s are now seeking public succour by once again distancing themselves from the Congress.

Having said that, it must be conceded that there is some merit in political parties distancing themselves from the Congress right now. It is as much an act of survival as it is of strategy. The disastrous foreign trip of the party's so-called leader in the last few weeks has sped up the disintegration of what was already a tenuous alliance. Not only did this leader disgrace himself, he also broke an unwritten code of conduct by questioning India's democratic credentials abroad.

Despite the survivalist impulse, the Opposition fails to see that the old ways of electoral politics are done. The lazy language of coalitions and anti-incumbency is dying. In its place, a new grammar of politics has taken a life. Prime Minister Narendra Modi has single-handedly revolutionised political discourse in India. The old debates of 'secularism vs communalism' and vote banks have withered away. Indians wish to move on from this tiresome discourse.

Even as the Opposition yearns for an undefined 'idea of India', Modi's 'New India' is already taking shape. Opposition parties fail to understand that the social forces behind these changes arise from national aspirations far loftier than electoral promises. The BJP has been working towards this social transformation for decades—equally at the grassroots as at the highest levels of governance.



SOUMYADIP SINHA

Today, India is the world's fastest growing economy. It is also the next major hub of global innovation, housing the third-largest startup ecosystem in the world presently. It has the highest smartphone data consumption and global fintech adoption rate in the world. Its manufacturing base is increasing rapidly, evidenced by India being the second-largest mobile manufacturer and second-largest steel producer in the world.

India's accelerating growth story and increasing global stature are reflective of the Modi government's sweeping reforms. The bedrock of this transformation has been the emphasis on ensuring saturation of service through the delivery of public goods and social security in the form of three crore houses and 11 crore toilets since 2014, to give a couple of examples. In a nutshell, the prime minister has shown that 'good governance is good politics'. This is why the Indian people trust the Modi government and why they gave it a resounding second term. They reposed their trust because the government has been working successfully towards the nation's collective goals. In PM Modi, people see an unwavering and committed leader who leads them honourably.

Unable to accept this political reality, the Opposition has tried various tactics to attack the BJP, each yielding diminishing returns. It has said that the NDA government ignores the rights of minorities. The inclusivity of the government's policies continues to thwart that narrative. The performance of the BJP in the recent elections in the Northeast (which has a substantial minority population) signifies the success of its core message of Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas. Development, it seems, is impervious to social divides—a lesson that has escaped my esteemed colleagues in the Opposition.

Another infantile attempt to besmirch the Modi government has been to declare that democracy is dying in India. Nothing could be further from the truth; India has never been more vibrant. Civil liberties and freedom of expression continue to be the basis of the BJP's relationship with Indian society. Since 2014, citizens have exercised their electoral rights in record numbers. India's judiciary regularly demonstrates its independence from the executive through various judgements and statements.

At this point, the Opposition parties seem to have lost their sense of direction and purpose. Their despicable behaviour in Parliament not only defeats the ideal of parliamentary dignity but also leads to a grievous waste of public resources. Much as they hope that this will bring more visibility, all it does is take away credibility.

This is what happens when a group lacks any definable ideology or principles. The lack of organisation and a credible leader to obviate the impulses of corruption and nepotism that run rampant within tells the sorry tale of the Opposition today. And yet, talk of a grand alliance re-emerges. Local popularity, it seems, has made regional leaders who have no national footprint and no grassroots-level engagement forget that people de-hyphenated state-level politics from national politics a while ago.

Is it that the rudderless Opposition is already sensing the dark clouds of defeat in the horizon?

MORE HEALTHCARE NOT ALWAYS ABOUT BETTER HEALTH

CHINTAN MARU
Founder and CEO of Leapfrog to Value, and Managing Director at the Global Development Incubator

SARANG DEO
Professor, Operations Management, and Executive Director, Max Institute of Healthcare Management at ISB

Over three decades, Liladharbhai Gada has hosted hundreds of medical camps at Bhojay Hospital in Kutch, Gujarat. Patients are seen free of charge. They are referred to outside hospitals when they need speciality care, and donors cover the costs. Structured as a charitable trust, the institution's reputation is just that—charitable and trustworthy. Why would such an institution question the value of a national health insurance scheme which covers low-income Indians, the very population they serve?

In 2022, for the first time, private hospitals approached Gada, offering to sponsor medical camps. They would bring their own doctors. If patients needed further care, they would treat them at their facilities in nearby cities. The cost of procedures would be covered by Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana (PMJAY), India's health insurance scheme launched in 2018. Gada hesitated to accept the offer. On the one hand, these hospitals would unlock new resources to care for his community. On the other hand, he questioned their motives. Would they conduct unnecessary, potentially harmful procedures in order to tap insurance payments?

Gada had heard reports that appendectomies surged in Gujarat under the scheme, with anecdotal evidence suggesting poor people were unnecessarily operated on. These suspicions are reminiscent of reports of unnecessary hysterectomies in the early years of the Aarogyasri insurance scheme in the undivided state of Andhra Pradesh.

Gada's doubts point to a dilemma facing PMJAY: Will increased healthcare spending buy better health? At the root of that dilemma is the payment method—hospitals are paid for the volume of services rendered. PMJAY has little visibility when it comes to the appropriateness or quality of those services. It has established mechanisms to monitor fraud and apply standard treatment guidelines to overcome that.

PMJAY's latest policy calls for a shift from volume-based to value-based care, introducing five metrics to assess hospitals by the "value" they generate for patients. The metrics include beneficiary satisfaction, health-related quality of life, grievance redressal, out-of-pocket expenditures, and hospital readmissions.

The intent is to make transparent how spending is linked to outcomes. Such transparency, in theory, could shape a marketplace where hospitals compete to achieve outcomes that matter to patients. Implementation is scheduled to start in 2023, starting with pilots in five states. As PMJAY proceeds, it needs to consider at least three strategic risks.

First, hospitals may ignore the incentives. Currently, PMJAY represents less than 10% of a typical private hospital's revenue. Hospitals are more likely to respond to new incentives if there's more at stake. A starting point would be for PMJAY to convince private insurers (which are also concerned about value) to participate, increasing the relevance of these metrics for hospitals. A prerequisite is an efficient data platform for public and private insurers and healthcare providers to track claims data, clinical parameters, and user feedback. The Health Claims Exchange, an emergent data platform, could eventually serve that function. Though it, too, faces the challenge of adoption.

> Gada hesitated to accept the offer. On the one hand, these hospitals would unlock new resources to care for his community. On the other hand, he questioned their motives. Would they conduct unnecessary, potentially harmful procedures in order to tap insurance payments?

A second risk is that the policy's incentives may have unintended consequences, as we have seen elsewhere. For example, when blood banks started to pay people for blood, they hoped to resolve blood shortages. Instead, they discovered that the payments discouraged volunteers from donating blood. The incentives ultimately did little to strengthen supply chains. If weights of various outcomes are not chosen wisely, private hospitals may spend more effort to improve outcomes that are easy to influence (e.g., beneficiary satisfaction, grievances), than those which are harder to change (e.g., hospital readmission rate). We must closely observe how hospitals respond to the policy to understand unintended consequences. Academic institutions are well positioned to play this role, and PMJAY should make data available to them. Researchers can evaluate the pilots and recommend changes to the policy before it is implemented in other states.

A third risk is overlooking a bigger opportunity: increasing value in the primary care setting. Ayushman Bharat, India's overarching universal health coverage framework, separates PMJAY (insurance covering hospital care) from Health and Wellness Centres (primary care). The value-based healthcare (VBHC) policy only has transparency in outcomes under PMJAY. The bigger opportunity is to improve the value of care in Health and Wellness Centres (HWCs). Heart and kidney conditions are the main cost drivers for PMJAY; both of these can be prevented and managed by high-quality care in HWCs. Intervening earlier in the primary care context not only leads to better outcomes but can also reduce costly hospitalisations.

As the VBHC policy evolves, the health ministry should consider applying value-based principles that connect the full patient journey, improving value across HWCs to PMJAY. This won't be easy as patient pathways often span both public and private health systems, where the latter is very fragmented, with limited penetration of IT systems to capture relevant metrics.

India's experimentation can shine a light on other countries embarking on their path to universal health coverage. Innovators in South Africa, Kenya and Ghana are starting to experiment with value-based healthcare.

What unifies these efforts is a conviction that human-centred healthcare delivers better outcomes at a better cost. We believe that this is the kind of health system that healthcare workers would be proud of, that taxpayers would be excited to support, and that patients deserve.

Indian democracy

Apropos of The fallout of Rahul Gandhi's intervention plea (Mar 21). The word 'democracy' is used so frequently now that it has lost its significance. Rahul Gandhi has become allergic to Modi's popularity and RSS growth so much so that in his view, whatever they do is undemocratic and hence unacceptable.

Jitendranath Guru, Padampur

RaGa's comments

The ruling BJP took umbrage against Rahul Gandhi for his recent comments in the UK on India's sliding democracy values. But the latest report from the V-Dem Institute only proves that his remarks are correct. It is unsurprising that the 2023 V-Dem report refers to India as "one of the worst autocratisers in the last 10 years".

IPCC report

Apropos of IPCC report confirms rising heat, emissions a threat to humanity (Mar 21). This gives us a grim picture of the current state of the planet. The emission of greenhouse gases has increased the global temperature to alarming levels in the past five decades. It is our time to heal the damage we have done to the ecosystem.

God's kindness

Apropos of When the manliest of gods became a mother (Mar 20). My pranato the writer for bringing out such a beautiful incident from history. God is great and can do wonders as both mother and father if we sincerely believe in his care and help. He may not show us his glory but his kindness is always there. Thanks once again to the columnist for faithfully bringing out such history.

Motherhood portrayal

This is with reference to When the manliest of gods became a mother (Mar 20). The portrayal of Lord Shiva's story by Renuka Narayanan indeed resulted in goosebumps and my eyes are wet with an overwhelming sweet emotion. Nothing can be on par with motherhood. I appreciate The New Indian Express for bringing out these touching stories to its readers.

Animal abuse

Apropos of Animal activists fume over goat sacrifice with teeth (Mar 21). Animals, wild or domesticated, are a part of our ecosystem and hence should be allowed to play their part as living beings on earth. Animal abuse or abandonment in our country is a serious problem. Using them as a form of religious sacrifice is highly abhorrent.

Budget session impasse: Oppn unites and protests in House

All-party meet called by Speaker fails to resolve deadlock over Adani issue as Oppn demands JPC probe and BJP insists on Rahul apology on democracy remark

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

EVEN as the stalemate in Parliament continued for the sixth day, Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla held an all party meeting on Tuesday and requested both the Opposition and the ruling party to allow the smooth functioning of the House.

However, the meeting failed to made any headway consensus, said sources. While the Opposition is insisting on a Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC) probe into the Adani issue, the government and BJP insists on an apology from Congress leader Rahul Gandhi for his 'democracy under attack' remarks in London.

According to sources familiar with the developments, the Speaker asked both sides to set aside their demands and allow the House to function. Congress Lok Sabha leader Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury, who attended the meeting, conveyed to the Speaker that they won't climb down from the demand for a JPC probe and the matter will be discussed in the Opposition parties' meeting, which is usually held every morning before the session.

Meanwhile, most of the Opposition parties did not attend a meeting of the floor leaders called by Rajya Sabha Chairman Jagdeep Dhankar. After both the Houses were adjourned till 2 pm, Opposition MPs from 17 parties staged an unprecedented protest in the corridors of the first floor of Parliament House reiterating their demand of a JPC probe into the Adani-Hindenburg row. Chanting slogans, leaders from the Congress, DMK, Left parties, Bharat Rashtra Samithi, the Aam Aadmi Party and others took part in the protest.

While many were holding placards which read 'Modi-Adani are brothers and they sold the country', they also hung a banner with images of PM Modi and Adani from the first floor of the building.

Ever since the second leg of the Budget session began a week ago, both Houses are in turmoil due to continuous disruption by members from the Opposition as well as the ruling party.

Opposition leaders allege that it is for the first time in the history of parliamentary democracy in India that the ruling party was obstructing the business of the House.

Taking to Twitter, Congress leader Jairam Ramesh said, "Piyush Goyal is accusing Opposition of boycotting meeting called by RS chairman. This is from the Leader of the House who got his MPs to prevent LoP Khargeji ji from speaking twice after Chairman had permitted him. Silencing of LoP is also an issue quite apart from the JPC on Adani," he said.

Rahul writes to Speaker for second time, seeks time to speak in House

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

AMID the uproar over his 'democracy under threat' remarks, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi has written to Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla for the second time requesting time to allow him to respond to the allegations raised by four BJP ministers against him in Parliament. Rahul is in the eye of a storm over his recent remarks in London that 'Indian democracy is under siege'. Both Houses are in a deadlock for more than a week as the BJP and government are adamant about seeking an apology from the Congress MP.

In his letter dated March 18, the Wayanad MP said that he is seeking permission to speak in Lok Sabha under the conventions of parliamentary practices. "I had written to you on March 17th seeking your permission to respond to totally baseless and unfair charges hurled at me by senior Ministers in the LS. I am making such a request again. I am seeking this permission under the conventions of Parliamentary practice, the constitutionally embedded rules of natural justice, and Rule 357 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Lok Sabha," he said in the letter.

'Birla was non-committal'

Rahul said that he had met Om Birla to seek an opportunity to respond to the allegations, but he was non-committal. "If Indian democracy is functioning, I would be able to say my piece in Parliament," he had said.

Later, in a press conference, Rahul said that he had met Birla to seek an opportunity to respond to the allegations, but he was non-committal. "If Indian democracy is functioning, I would be able to say my piece in Parliament," he had said.

He further said "Members of the ruling regime have made scurrilous and defamatory claims against me both within and outside Parliament. As a result of these allegations, and the rules invoked by these individuals, it is only appropriate that you kindly allow me a right to reply as contained in Rule 357 which allows for "personal explanations"," he said.

DYSPNEA, FATIGUE, MENTAL HEALTH ISSUES IN THOSE WHO SUFFERED FROM COVID

Most people, who recovered from Covid-19 and were discharged after 30-60 days hospital stay, developed post-Covid symptoms like dyspnea, fatigue, and mental health issues, the Rajya Sabha was informed on Tuesday. These findings were from a study conducted by Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR) among 8,042 participants during their first follow-up after their discharge, the MoS for Health Dr Bharati Pravin Pawar said in a written reply. ICMR has established a COVID clinical registry across the country to capture clinical treatment and outcomes of Covid-19. This information is only limited to hospitalised patients.

MEDICAL TOURISM IN INDIA WITNESSED 66% RISE IN 2021

Foreign tourists travelling to India for medical tourism saw a 66 per cent rise in 2021, despite the Covid-19 pandemic, the Rajya Sabha was informed on Tuesday. In 2020, at the peak of Covid-19, 1.83 lakh tourists came for medical treatment.

The number went up to 3.04 lakh in 2021, said Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya in a written reply India has been ranked at the 10th position in Medical Tourism Index for 2020-2021 out of 46 destinations of the world by the Medical Tourism Association. The Ministry of Tourism has formulated a National Strategy and Roadmap for Medical and Wellness Tourism in 2022.

2022 RECORDED 33 DEATHS DUE TO HEAT-RELATED ISSUES

Over 30 deaths were reported in India due to heat related illness in 2022, the RS was informed on Tuesday. So far, no deaths due to heat related illness has been reported in the country, MoS for Health Dr Bharati Pravin Pawar said. In 2022, 33 deaths due to heat-related illness were reported of which 27 were from Maharashtra, followed by Odisha (3), Telangana (2) and Andhra Pradesh (1). Pawar said the ministry has released a National Action Plan on heat related illness in 2021 providing guidance to manage severe heat-related illnesses including clinical management, health facility preparedness and surveillance of heat related illnesses.

INDIGENOUSLY DEVELOPED HPV VACCINE LIKELY TO BE INTRODUCED IN UNIVERSAL PROG

The government on Tuesday informed the Rajya Sabha that the indigenously developed quadrivalent HPV vaccine may be considered for introduction in the Universal Immunisation programme (UIP) as a two-dose regimen for adolescent girls aged 9-14 years. "The indigenously developed quadrivalent HPV vaccine may be considered for introduction in the UIP as a two-dose regimen as indicated in the product insert. Immunization of boys is recommended once 80 per cent routine immunization coverage is achieved in girls," Minister of State for Health Bharati Pravin Pawar said in a written reply in Rajya Sabha.

Quake jolts Af, tremors in Delhi-NCR

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

A powerful earthquake of 6.6-magnitude jolted much of north India including Delhi, Uttar Pradesh, Punjab, Haryana, and Jammu & Kashmir on Tuesday night. The quake lasted over a minute, making panic-stricken residents rush out of their homes. No casualties were immediately known.

The epicentre was at the Afghan town of Jurm, near the borders with Pakistan and Tajikistan. According to the National Center for Seismology, the Indian government's nodal agency for monitoring of earthquake activity, the quake occurred at a depth of 156 km at 10.17 pm. Dr O P Mishra, director of National Center for Seismology, told TNIE the quake had a higher surface wave, so it had a longer duration. "Some high-rise buildings may develop cracks, especially those built on alluvial plains," he said, adding that large-scale damage is unlikely.

Scared residents step outside their homes in Noida on Tuesday night | PTI

Mishra explained that earthquake damage depends on three factors — magnitude, depth and intensity. "This is of higher intensity and magnitude but the epicentre is quite deep. So, all the energy generated is absorbed by different layers of the earth's surface. It caused higher surface waves with longer duration," he said.

Edu ministry to focus on mental health of kids

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

TO safeguard the mental and emotional well-being of students, the Central government said on Monday a comprehensive framework of operational guidelines is being prepared that will cover schools and higher education institutions.

The announcement came after Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan held a high-level review meeting focussing on mental wellness of students and zero tolerance towards discrimination in educational institutions across the country. "As per the directions of the minister and to further safeguard the mental and emotional wellbeing of the students, the ministry is preparing a comprehensive framework of operational guidelines, covering holistically from school to higher education institutions," a ministry statement said here.

The framework will institutionalise mechanisms to ensure comprehensive protection of students from any threat or assault- physical, social, discriminatory, cultural, and linguistic; causing psychological distress leading to self-harming/self-destructive tendencies among students. The ministry in Parliament recently said that 33 students from IITs have died by suicide since 2018. Apart from IITs, NITs and the Indian Institutes of Management (IIMs) registered 61 suicide cases during the same period. In the meeting, the minister asked the senior officials to put in place an effective grievance redressal system with shared responsibility. He also asked them to invite suggestions from all the stakeholders through an online medium.

CHECK-LIST

- Creation of inclusive, non-discriminatory environment
- Sensitization of faculty members
- Close-knit student faculty interactive communities
- Team activities
- Provision of physical fitness and nutrition
- Speedy grievance redress mechanism

"He touched upon various subjects such as gender equality, caste sensitivity, academic ease of pressure, robust system of counselling, etc.," the statement said. The ministry said it is "committed to ensure physical, psychological, and emotional well-being of the students."

The issues that may affect the mental health of the students are varied and cover a wide spectrum ranging from academic pressure, peer pressure, intensely competitive educational environment, behavioural issues, performance issues, stress, career concerns, depression etc.

SC to decide sending electoral bonds issue to Constitution bench on April 11

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday agreed to consider on April 11 as to whether pleas dealing with electoral bonds scheme should be referred to Constitution bench or not. A bench of CJI DY Chandrachud and Justice PS Narasimha agreed to consider pursuant to the request put forth by the petitioners.

The top court's observations assume significance in the wake of the claim of an NGO, a PIL petitioner on the issue, that so far ₹12,000 crore has been paid to political parties through electoral bond and the two-third of the amount has gone to one major political party and hence, the matter needed to be decided expeditiously prior to the upcoming Karnataka assembly polls. "We will see whether the petitions can be referred to a constitution bench on April 11," said the bench comprising Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud and Justice P S Narasimha. Earlier too, a bench headed by Justice BR Gavai had posted pleas dealing with electoral bonds scheme to decide on the question whether they should be referred to a larger bench.

97% households yet to get safe drinking water

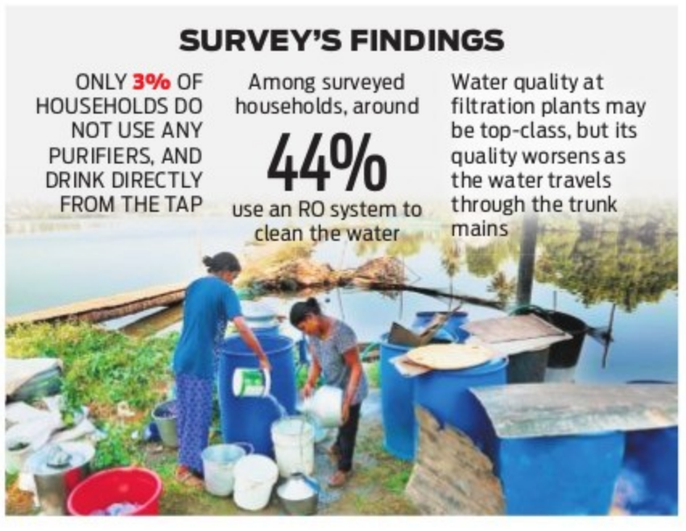
JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

A survey shows that around 97% of households do not trust the quality of the water supplied to them by their local bodies. However, the number of households reduced by one per cent from last year.

India's leading Community Social Media platform, LocalCircles, conducted this Survey on its platform. The survey received over 26,000 responses from citizens located in 305 districts of the country.

The survey caught the perception of people who believed that the quality of locally supplied water has improved. Last year, only 35% of surveyed people rated the quality of locally supplied water in 'good' category.

This year, their number increased to 44% in the last 12 months. However, 14% of households termed the quality of supplied water as poor, while 32% of people termed the quality as average.



"The reason might be due to better participation of the local community at grassroots governance and regular quality testing of water being done under the Jal Jeevan Mission," says Sachin Taparia, co-founder and chief executive officer of LocalCircles.

Meanwhile, 'good' water quality doesn't mean drinkable or potable water. Only 3% of households do not use any purifiers, and they drink directly from the tap.

However, the rest of 97% of households use some means, such as RO systems, water purifiers, etc., to clean their supplied water.

In most surveyed households, around 44% use a RO system to clean the water. Another 28% use a water purifier, followed by 11% who use boiled water before drinking.

Five percent use clay vessels for purification, while another five percent buy bottled water instead of cleaning at home.

"The quality of water produced at filtration plants may be top-class, but its quality worsens as the water travels through the trunk mains to service reservoirs," says Taparia. "the gradual deterioration in the quality of water is because most of the last-mile pipeline networks are poorly maintained," he adds.

On Amritpal, HC says intel failure

Videos of the radical preacher show his escape while changing cars, clothes & appearance

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

Amid reports on how radical preacher Amritpal Singh continues to hoodwink the Punjab Police, the Punjab and Haryana High Court on Tuesday slammed the state government, asking it to file a status report on the police operations against the Khalistani sympathizer.

The Punjab government informed the HC that the NSA was invoked against Amritpal. Video clips have emerged showing how the preacher changed his vehicle, went to a gurdwara to change his clothes to western attire before fleeing on a motorcycle on Saturday.

During a hearing on the habeas corpus petition on Tuesday seeking Waris Punjab De chief's production in court, Justice NS Shekhawat pulled up the state government over Amritpal giving police the slip on Saturday and called it an intelligence failure. "When there were 5-6 FIRs and you are saying there are 5-6 criminal cases against him, how did he manage to escape? What were 80,000 cops doing," the bench of Justice NS Shekhawat observed while referring to the Punjab government's submission?

The bench also questioned how the preacher could give police the slip when others could be nabbed.

Waris Punjab De chief Amritpal Singh seen escaping in an SUV at a toll booth on March 18, in Jalandhar on Tuesday

The petition was filed by advocate Iman Singh Khara, the legal advisor of Waris Punjab De, seeking the release of Amritpal from alleged police custody. Amritpal's father Tarsem Singh was also present in the court. The Punjab Police said that the pro-Khalistani is still on the run.

In a series of video clips that have emerged, the separatist sympathizer was seen in his Mercedes but later switched to Brezza on Saturday when the police launched a crackdown against him. In a new photo that appeared on social media, Amritpal could be seen riding pillion on a bike wearing a pink turban and black goggles, trying to change his appearance to get away from the police.

IGP (Headquarters), Sukhchain Singh Gill on Tuesday said that the National Security Act (NSA) was invoked against Amritpal and a non-bailable warrant was also issued against him on March 18.

"The Brezza car in which Amritpal fled has been recovered. Four of his associates -- Manpreet Singh, Gurdeep Singh, Harpreet Singh and Gurbhej Singh -- who helped him flee in the Brezza have been arrested," said the IGP.

NIA files 1st chargesheet, names 12

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

The National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Tuesday filed its first chargesheet against 12 accused, found to have links with pro-Khalistani outfits and Pak-based conspirators, in one of the three terror-gangster nexus cases it is investigating.

Ten other persons are still under investigation for their role in the terror conspiracy, which included plans to eliminate certain leaders, singers and businessmen to terrorise people, extort money from them and create a sensation, NIA sources said.

NIA spokesperson said investigations have revealed linkages of the chargesheeted accused with Khalistan Tiger Force, a proscribed organisation, and its operative Arshdeep Singh Gill alias Arsh Dala, a listed 'Individual Terrorist'. Besides being in contact with Pak-based conspirators, the accused were also in touch with pro-Khalistanis in Canada and abroad.

Mumbai's loss is Delhi's gain as key office shifted

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

THE Union Textile Ministry's decision to shift the textile commissioner and other officers from its Mumbai's main office to Delhi has sparked a row in Maharashtra. The Opposition has viewed it as a systematic attempt by the Centre to scale down the importance of the financial capital – Mumbai.

The Ministry of Textile issued a circular on March 14 asking the Textile Commissioner, who sits in Mumbai's Nishta Bhavan, to relocate to Delhi along with other officers as part of restructuring.

> There are more than 500 people working in the textile commissioner office in Mumbai, out of it only six of them have asked to relocate from Mumbai to Delhi
>
> Devendra Fadnavis, Deputy CM

NCP state president Jayant Patil said Mumbai is known as the Manchester of India due to a large quantum of products made by cotton and textiles mills. However, the BJP-led government has been systematically reducing the importance of Mumbai by relocating all key offices from the financial capital.

Patil said Chief Minister Eknath Shinde and Deputy CM Devendra Fadnavis should not allow this to happen.

Responding to the Opposition's allegations on the floor of the House in the assembly, he clarified that the Central government had not relocated the textile commissioner office, but had relocated the textile commissioners and a few other officers.

"There are more than 500 people working in the textile commissioner office in Mumbai, out of it only six of them including the textile commissioner have asked to relocate from Mumbai to Delhi as a part of the restructuring process. This is not the move to relocate the office. The textile office will very much remain in Mumbai only," deputy chief minister clarified.

BJP MP rips off clothes inside Assembly

BJP MLA Manish Jaiswal on Tuesday tore off his clothes in Jharkhand Assembly demanding withdrawal of notices issued against 5,000 people under section 107 for violating restrictions imposed during first Mangal process and ban on DJ sound in Ram Navmi in Hazaribagh. Jaiswal also shouted Jai Sri Ram, asking whether it is crime to be a Hindu in this state. Notably, the restrictions imposed by the district administration for Ram Navmi procession has triggered uproar in the Assembly under which a moving DJ has also been banned. Several Hindu organizations have been staging dharna.

80 new Jharkhand schools under CBSE

To improve quality of education in state-owned schools, Jharkhand Government is all set to start 80 model schools affiliated to the Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE) from April this year, with infrastructure on a par with some of the elite schools. The concept of model schools in each Panchayat of the state with the best infrastructure is the first foot forward in this direction under which schools in all 24 districts have been planned in the first phase. School management committees have been asked to ensure that more students are enrolled.

Job portal to ensure 75% quota in pvt sector

With an aim to bring together a common platform where aspirants and employers can come together to ensure 75% quota for locals in private sector jobs, Jharkhand government has launched a job portal – 'Jharniyojan,' where all private establishments have to register without any fail. The portal gives employers the liberty to share information about business, manpower and vacancy. For the first time, the job seekers will also be able to post their applications, As per the act, 75 per cent jobs in the private sector with salaries up to ₹40, 000, are to be reserved.

Steep rise in number of BPL families in 2 yrs: Guj govt tells Assembly

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

IN the midst of claims of development in Gujarat, the state government admitted in the Assembly on Tuesday that the number of below-poverty-line (BPL) card holders has increased in the last two years.

The government said the number of such families has gone up by 1,359 in the two years.

In various written replies during question hour, the government said more than 31.67 lakh BPL families exist in the state as on January 31, 2023, while 11 families were removed from the list in 2021 and 2022.

Economists are concerned about the rise in the number of BPL card holders, pointing out that this is the number of households enrolled as per a survey that was conducted 20 years ago; if the Gujarat government conducts a new survey at this time, the number could be higher.

> Over 31L BPL families in Gujarat
>
> The government says over 31.67 lakh BPL families exist in the state as on January 31, 2023, while 11 families were removed from the list in 2021-22. The number of such families has gone up by 1,359 in the two years

Professor and economist Hemant Kumar Shah said, "It is saddening to have such a number of poor families in the state when you claim that Gujarat is a developed state and present it as a development model.

Gujarat's per capita income is significantly higher than the average national figure. Still, this income has not percolated to the poorest of the society, which is why the number of poor families has increased, said Shah.

The Gujarat government also admitted before the state legislature that the most recent BPL survey was completed in 2002–2003.

"The state government last conducted a survey of BPL families 20 years ago, indicating that the government is avoiding a new survey about BPL cards, which was last conducted in 2002-2003 and is desperately needed after the Covid epidemic," said Shah.

Raj 1st state to clear Bill to give free emergency care in all hosps

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

RAJASTHAN on Tuesday became the first state in the country to pass the Right to Health Bill in order to provide free emergency and affordable medical services at government hospitals and privately-run establishments.

The Rajasthan Assembly passed the Bill amid strong opposition by the opposition BJP. Private hospital operators and doctors are also opposed to the Bill, alleging that it does not provide a clear definition of emergency and its scope, which could result in a surge of patients seeking free treatment.

Rajasthan is now the first state to establish and protect the legal rights of patients to access equitable healthcare services. The Bill also provides for strengthening the public healthcare system.

IN the House, Medical and Health Minister Parsadi Lal Meena made it clear that all hospitals which have got land from the government at subsidised rates would be brought under the purview of the Right to Health and Chiranjeevi Health Insurance Scheme.

Shivraj visits rain-ravaged districts, announces sops for farmers in MP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

CHIEF Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan hit Ground Zero on Tuesday to take stock of Rabi crop damage by untimely rains-hailstorms and meet the weather-beaten farmers. He toured villages in Vidisha (one of the worst hit districts of central MP) ad Sagar district of Bundelkhad region.

Vidisha for long has been considered Chouhan's political 'karmbhoomi,' as he had represented the Vidisha parliamentary constituency five times in a row, before becoming the state's CM in 2005. While making a series of announcements, the CM said the MP government will give a relief sum which is not available in any other state.

"I'm touring villages of Vidisha and later Sagar districts. I may not be able to physically reach the agricultural fields of every farmer, but the BJP government and I stand firmly with thousands of farmers hit by the hailstorms and untimely rains across the state. The crop damage of every farmer will be surveyed with human approach. Farmers who've lost over 50% crop (all Rabi and horticultural crops) will get ₹32,000 per hectare in addition to the compensation under the crop insurance scheme," Chouhan announced.

"The ₹32,000 per hectare and compensation under crop insurance scheme will together compensate for the loss. Not only will agricultural loss be covered, but farmers who have lost livestock too will be duly compensated. Besides, damage to houses too will be taken care of. Every weather-beaten farmer who was preparing to marry daughters, will get ₹56,000 under the Mukyamantri Kanya Vivah Yojana," the CM announced.

In further relief, Chouhan announced extending the loan recovery of affected farmers. "The interest on the outstanding loans will be paid by the government and it will also ensure that the farmers get zero percent interest loans for the next crop as well."

The CM also said that he has shared with Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the information about untimely rains-hailstorms induced damage.

From UP to UK, tracing the roots of Gulabi Gang's signature pink sari

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknowi

Devoted to contemporary designs, the Museum of London is set to celebrate the 'Pink Sari' of Gulabi Gang as a tale of sisterhood and the courage amalgamated as feminine power scripted on a pink six-yard drape symbolizing the personality of Indian woman for centuries.

The pink sari of 'Gulabi Gang,' the all-women vigilante group, has been chosen to be displayed as an "Offbeat Sari" at the exhibition on Indian fashion at the Design Museum of London to be opened in May this year.

The Gulabi Gang members, wearing pink saris as their signature attire, fighting against oppression with a pink baton in hand, came up as a response to widespread domestic abuse and violence against women in Banda district in UP's Bundelkhand region in 2006.

The extraordinary women's movement started by Sampat Pal Devi has now catapulted into an organisation of international fame. "We have become famous globally. The first foreign country to acknowledge our efforts to fight for women rights was France where I was called in 2008. Now we have grown to become an organisation of 11 lakh members in the age group of 18-60 years," says Sampat Pal Devi over the phone.

Pink saris denote fight against oppression

The Gulabi Gang members, wearing pink saris denote a fight against oppression with a pink baton in hand, came up as a response to widespread domestic abuse and violence against women in Banda district in UP's Bundelkhand region in 2006.

She said this time she was sending her organisation's signature 'Pink Sari', a blouse and petticoat along with the baton to London by courier for display at Design Museum.

The Design Museum of London will organise the exhibition from May to September, 2023 to celebrate the contemporary sari. Curated by Priya Khanchandani, the exhibition will demonstrate sari as a metaphor for the layered and complex definitions of India.

However, getting in touch with Sampat Pal Devi, the founder of Gulabi Gang through an e-mail, Khanchandani asked her to send a 'pink sari' belonging to a member of Gulabi Gang for the exhibition as an example of the sari being an object of resistance.

Priya Khanchandani was not available for comment. However, about the exhibition, she tweeted: "A labour of love for me."

J&K to ease curbs to promote border tourism

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

With tourism picking up in Kashmir after Gurez and Karnah border areas, close to the Line of Control (LoC) in north Kashmir, were thrown open for visitors last year, the authorities are planning to throw open another hitherto no-go area, the Uri border area, which had witnessed heavy clashes between Indian and Pakistani troops in the past, to visitors this year.

The authorities will also be easing the norms to ensure hassle-free travel of tourists to border areas including Uri, Karnah and Gurez and encourage people to set up homestays and tented colonies for the tourists. Besides, Gurez and Tanghdar, the earlier no go areas of Lolab, Bangus Valley and Drangyari were also thrown open for the tourists.

The tourists visiting these places have to seek permission from administration and local army unit. Director (Tourism), Kashmir Fazl ul Haseeb told this newspaper that border areas of Karnah and Gurez were thrown open for the tourists last year after an improvement in the situation.

"Lot of tourists visited these border areas last year. It was at an all time high. The tourists visiting the Valley want to see the border area and demand for visits to the border area is picking up," he said.

The Tourism Department threw open the border areas of Gurez in north Kashmir's Bandipora district and Teetwal, Tangdhar in border district of Kupwara last year after a thaw in tension between India and Pakistan. The border areas, which are close to the LoC, have been quiet and calm since India and Pakistan agreed in February 2021 to strictly adhere to the November 2003 border ceasefire pact.

Haseeb said they are planning to open the border area of Uri, close to LoC, for visitors this year. Uri had witnessed cross border shelling and firing between Indian and Pakistani troops in the past and is now reaping the dividends of cessation of hostilities at the border due to the ceasefire pact.

The opening of the border areas for tourism will not only boost tourism to the places but also lead to economic upliftment of the local population.

At present, the visitors intending to visit the border areas have to seek permission from the local administration or Army for visiting these places. However, Haseeb said, they would be easing the norms to ensure hassle-free travel of tourists to the border areas.

"With the improvement in the security situation, administration in collaboration with Army and security forces will further liberalise visits to the border areas," he said.

Encouraged by the development, the locals are converting their houses into homestays.

"A person can convert his home into home-stays provided it has basic infrastructure available. If somebody wants to establish tented colonies for tourists, we will give permission," Haseeb said.

He said they don't want to take concrete urban infrastructure to the rural areas. "We have to focus on homestays."

Advisory role for Gopinathan in Tata?

Tata Sons Chairman and Gopinathan discuss about latter's engagement with the Group

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

AFTER Rajesh Gopinathan, outgoing TCS CEO and MD, said in a media briefing that he might be the one great advisor the world is waiting for, speculation is rife that Gopinathan might continue with Tata Group as an advisor.

Agency reports quoted Tata Group sources on Tuesday and said that there have been discussions between Tata Sons chairman N Chandrasekaran and Gopinathan about the latter's engagement with Tata Group in an advisory role after his notice period ends on September 15.

At a press conference when asked whether he will take on an advisory role, Gopinathan explained, "Long before I owned a car, I used to walk on the road with an attitude towards car owners -you've bought a car, not the road, and I used to walk however I wanted. When you start driving a car, you have a different perspective of pedestrians."

"When it comes to advisors, when I was in an operational role, I used to hate advisors of all forms completely. It'll be interesting now, I might be the one great advisor the world is waiting for. I have to develop different perspectives," he added.

Though TCS declined to comment on this, analysts lauded Gopinathan's track record and his long association (22 years) with the company.

Meanwhile, Kotak Equities said following recent developments around the bankruptcy of Silver gate, SVB and Signature Bank in the US and UBS-CS merger in Europe will likely lead to further curtailing of discretionary tech spends in the near term.

This will likely impact growth for Indian IT in the first half of FY24, and also bring down overall growth for FY2024. However, it said that TCS and Infosys are better positioned.

It said BFS exposure (excluding insurance) for TCS stands at around 29% and Infosys at 26%. While Europe BFSI exposure for Infosys stood at 4.9%, TCS Europe exposure was at 13%.

Incoming CEO K Krithivasan's current role is President and Global Head of the Banking, Financial Services, and Insurance (BFSI) Business Unit at TCS. BFSI is one of the largest portfolios for TCS.

Motilal Oswal Financial Services said given Krithi's long tenure at TCS (34 years), they expect the company to maintain its operational performance intact.

PASSING ON THE BATON

- Gopinathan, served as MD and CEO for last 6 years, will continue with TCS till September 15, 2023
- It is said that he might continue with Tata Group in an advisory role
- In last 6 years at TCS as CEO, Gopinathan added over $10 Bn in incremental revenues and over $70bn increase in market cap

- CEO-designate Krithivasan is presently President and Global Head of the Banking, Financial Services, and Insurance (BFSI) Business Group at TCS
- He has been part of the global technology sector for over 34 years
- The new CEO oversees the largest industry unit at the company – BFSI (32% of FY22 revenues)

Ban on e-pharmacy: Cos ask for more time to submit reply

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

MOST firms engaged in online sale of drugs and medicines including Amazon, Apollo Pharmacy, Practo and Flipkart Health+ have asked for additional time of one-two weeks to submit their reply to the show-cause notices sent to them by health ministry regarding ban on ePharmacy, a top government official told this newspaper.

Reliance Retail-promoted Netmed has sought a month's time so that it can provide all the clarifications and details in response to the notice.

Meanwhile, Tata 1mg, the official said, has urged the government to withdraw the notice, claiming that it complies with all the provisions of law. As per the sources, the Centre is determined to put a complete ban on online sale of drugs and medicines and in this regard, it had sent show-cause notices to nearly 31 firms. Queries sent to Amazon, Tata 1mg and Flipkart, didn't elicit any response. PharmEasy denied the alleged averments made in the notice, as per the official. It said its platform acts as a facilitator for the sale of pharmaceutical, fast moving consumer goods and nutraceutical products and healthcare services (such as diagnostic services). "The products and services are invited for an offer for sale (subject to valid prescriptions where applicable) by retail pharmacies, which are registered with the Food and Drugs Administration ("Registered Pharmacies") and are listed on the platforms to the users of the platform," it said in its reply to the notice.

"We have received over 15 responses so far. Many of them asked for additional time to submit their reply. Six firms have stated they are providing an online platform for facilitating sale of pharma products to customers from their partners, while a big player has responded they are compliant with applicable provisions of law and urged for withdrawing of the notice," the official added. The ministry in February had sent show-cause notices to big players like Amazon, Flipkart, Practo, Tata1mg, PharmEasy, Apollo, Zeelabs and HealthKart for selling drugs online without necessary licences.

EQUITY MARKET

Sensex surges 445 points on firm global trends

ENS ECONOMIC BUREA @ Mumbai

DOMESTIC equities bounced back on Tuesday helped by firm trends in global equities and buying in index major Reliance Industries and banking stocks.

The 30-share BSE Sensex climbed 445.73 points or 0.77% to settle at 58,074.68. During the day, it rallied 504.38 points or 0.87% to 58,133.33. NSE Nifty advanced 119.10 points or 0.7% to settle at 17,107.50.

The rise in domestic equities follows an uptick in global markets as concerns over the banking crisis eased after UBS' state-backed takeover of Credit Suisse, but worries of contagion in global banking remain, said analysts.

"Gaining buoyancy from a slew of measures to shield banking sector, global markets saw recovery ahead of the US Fed policy announcement on Wednesday. The momentum was passed onto domestic equities, which were led by large-cap banks," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services. Investors will be watching the US FOMC meeting on Wednesday as any hike surpassing street expectations could unsettle investors.

Among the Sensex stocks, Reliance Industries climbed the most by 3.11%, ending its eight-day slide.

Bajaj Finance, Titan, Axis Bank, ICICI Bank, Bajaj Finserv, IndusInd Bank, UltraTech Cement, Larsen & Toubro, HDFC Bank, HDFC and Kotak Mahindra Bank were among the other major winners. Power Grid, Hindustan Unilever, Tech Mahindra, Tata Consultancy Services, Infosys and Asian Paints were among the biggest laggards.

Credit Suisse AT1 bond writeoff: Bank to face repricing pressure

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

THE decision to write off nearly $17 billion in Additional-Tier 1 (AT1) bonds issued by Credit Suisse will not have huge impact on the demand for such bonds in India. However, there will be repricing pressure in such bonds considering the investors will look for higher rates to compensate the negative news around the AT1 bonds.

The exposure of Indian banks to AT1 bonds is relatively low, according to brokerage house Macquarie. Private banks have an exposure of around 0-1% to AT1 bonds, while public banks have an exposure of 1-2%.

"In the current scenario, demand for AT1 might drop. However, AT1 bonds will be repriced in terms of higher yields, we may not see a drastic fall in the demand for such bonds. With repricing market forces will come into action we will see again see decent demand for such securities," Ankit Gupta, Founder, BondsIndia.com told this newspaper.

"Indian banks are well capitalised and are considered less risky. So expectation would be of higher yields and after repricing investors will be happy to invest. Repricing will be more in case of banks which are fundamentally not very strong and do not have strong balance sheet," Gupta added.

Credit Suisse episode has reminded investors of Yes Bank crisis in which investors court battle for investment made in AT1 bonds. Yes Bank had written off AT1 bonds worth Rs 8,415 crore as part of the bailout in March 2020. These bonds are designed to convert into equity when a lender runs into trouble.

"Institutional demand for AT-1 is expected to come down and mutual funds exposure could further reduce. Such bonds are set to be repriced after the latest global events and the spreads may go up materially. Issuances of AT-1 will come down not because of Credit Suisse or Yes Bank episodes but because Indian banks are well capitalised," said Feroze Azeez, Deputy CEO of Anand Rathi Wealth.

"The 10 year GOI bond yields have just moved up 50 bps over the past one year. Hence, the Indian banking system is not grappling with issues which a few global banks are facing," he said. "The 10 year GOI bond yields have just moved up 50 bps over the past one year. Hence, the Indian banking system is not grappling with issues which a few global banks are facing," he added.

According to Macquarie's report, private sector banks are comfortable with their Common Equity Tier 1 (CET1) levels, and are unlikely to face any issues.

IMF APPROVES $3 BN FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE SRI LANKA

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) has approved a $3 billion bailout programme to help debt-ridden Sri Lanka overcome its economic crisis and catalyse financial support from other development partners. The move is welcomed by Colombo on Tuesday as a "historic milestone" in the critical period. The fund's Executive Board approved on Monday a 48-month extended arrangement under its Extended Fund Facility (EFF) with an amount of SDR 2.286 billion ($3 billion). Special Drawing Rights (SDR) are supplementary foreign exchange reserve assets defined and maintained by the IMF. The country has been hit by a catastrophic economic and humanitarian crisis.

ASIAN SHARES UP AHEAD OF FED'S POLICY RATE DECISION

Asian shares gained on Tuesday following Wall Street ahead of a Federal Reserve decision on another possible interest rate hike amid worries about global banks. Shanghai, Hong Kong and Seoul markets advanced, while Japanese markets were closed for a holiday. Traders expect the Fed to go ahead with another rate hike on Wednesday but think it might be held to 0.25 percentage points, down from 0.5 points previously expected. The Shanghai Composite Index rose 0.2% to 3,240.61 and Hang Seng in Hong Kong advanced 0.4% to 19,075.79 The Kospi in Seoul rose 0.4% to 2,389.19 and Sydney's S&P-ASX 200 surged 1.2% to 6,979.00. The collapse of two US banks and the takeover of Credit Suisse have heightened fears other lenders might crack under the strain of repeated rate hikes to cool economic activity and inflation that is near multi-decade highs.

SELF-DRIVE car rental company IndusGo has raised ₹100 crore from its parent company Indus Motors. Beginning with an initial investment of ₹20 crore, the company is planning to launch its competitive fleet of self-drive car rentals across metro cities in South India.

Backed by the parent company with a turnover of Rs 2,500 crore, IndusGo plans to utilise these funds to expand its fleet of vehicles by 1000 cars in addition to the existing fleet of 480 cars, employ advanced cutting-edge technology, and hire additional staff to improve customer service. "This funding is a testament to our success in the current markets we operate in and also further highlights the potential that the Indian self-drive car rental industry holds," said Afdhel AW, Founder, IndusGo. He added that the company's goal is to bridge the gap between the online and offline world.

Unlike global economy, India will not slow down: RBI

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

UNLIKE the global economy, India would not slow down – it would maintain the pace of expansion achieved in 2022-23, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) said on Tuesday.

In its monthly bulletin, the apex bank said it remains optimistic about the country, whatever the odds.

"Even as global growth is set to slow down or even enter a recession in 2023 as global financial markets wager, India has emerged from the pandemic years stronger than initially thought, with a steady gathering of momentum since the second quarter of the current financial year," RBI said.

On the supply side, agriculture is into a seasonal uptick, industry is emerging out of contraction and services have maintained momentum, it added. Consumer price inflation remains high and core inflation continues to defy the distinct softening of input costs, it added. "Over the financial year ahead (2023-24), inflation is expected to range tightly between 5% and 5.6% if India survives an El Nino event adversely affecting the south west monsoon, given global uncertainties."

According to the report, collapse of two banks in the US -- Silicon Valley Bank (SVB)and the Signature Bank -- in the first half of March 2023 are rippling through the global financial markets. While the direct impact of this meltdown on economic activity could be limited as it would appear at present, markets are bracing for tighter financial conditions, which could present a trade-off between financial stability concerns and the conduct of disinflationary monetary policy.

In the foreign exchange market, Indian rupee (INR) depreciated vis-à-vis the US dollar by 0.5% in February 2023. "The performance of the rupee was in line with many other EMEs and reserve currencies. Volatility in the movement of rupee, as measured by the coefficient of variation was, however, lower than that of other currencies, except the Turkish lira in February. In terms of the 40-currency real effective exchange rate (REER), the INR depreciated by 0.5% in February 2023 (m-o-m)" it added.

IFSCA forms committee to attract start-ups domiciled abroad to GIFT City

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE International Financial Services Centres Authority (IFSCA) on Tuesday announced constituting an expert committee to formulate a road map to onshore the Indian innovation to GIFT IFSC.

The committee will try to bring back financial services and transactions that are currently carried out in offshore financial centres by Indian corporate entities and overseas branches and subsidiaries of financial institutions, to India. "In order to better understand the nuances from regulatory, tax, legal and other perspectives and identify measures required to make India (GIFT IFSC) the preferred location, IFSCA has constituted an expert committee to formulate a road map to onshore the Indian innovation to GIFT IFSC," said the government in a press note.

Indian start-up ecosystem is the third-largest in the world, boasting an impressive 115 unicorns (billion-dollar enterprises). Indian start-ups raised $44 billion in 2021, with over $ 33 billion going towards deals worth more than $5 million. A number of Indian start-ups like Polygon, Amagi, CommerceIQ, Hasura, Fractal Analytics, BrowserStack, Chargebee, InnovAccer, MindTickle are domiciled outside India despite having the majority of their market, personnel and founders in India.

Hyundai to ramp up production in Chennai plant; launches new Verna

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

HYUNDAI MOTOR INDIA to increase its production at its Chennai facility to 8,20,000 units from the existing 7,65,000 units as demand increases, according to a senior executive.

There is still pain ahead for the company due to chip shortage, however, 'supply chain has eased and we're sitting on a back-order of 1,15,000 customer bookings', Tharun Garg, COO said. He added that geopolitical and macroeconomic situation pose challenges, and inflation and raising interest rate is a cause of a concern as 80% of the cars are financed.

The company's electric vehicle (EV) ionic 5 has got 800 booking and they have to work on supply chain, charging infrastructure, he said responding to a question on price moderation in EV portfolio as reports of Lithium-ion battery prices falling. He was speaking on the sidelines of Hyundai all-new Verna launch in New Delhi.

The sedan comes in two variants - 1.5 Turbo GDi Petrol engine that produces 5,500 revolution per minute (RPM) and a maximum torque of 253 Nm. It can reach 0 to 100 km in 8.1 seconds. The 1.5 MPi Petrol engine has 6,300 RPM power and a maximum torque of 143.8 Nm.

South Korean carmaker offers competitive price with range starting from ₹10, 89,000 to ₹17,37,900.

New Verna comes with 30 standard safety features, including six air bags and electronic stability control. It has seven monotone colour options and two dual tone colour option for select specifications.

Hyundai Verna features Bluelink with over 65 connected car features including home to car.. So far sold 4,65,000 units of Verna has been sold since it's inception in 2006 and Hyundai expects twice the volume with the new model, said Unsoo Kim Managing Director and Chief Executive of Hyundai Motors India.

"We have witnessed 8,000 pre-bookings even before announcement of prices," he added.

Crypto exchange WazirX blacklists over 2,430 accounts

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

CRYPTO exchange WazirX on Tuesday said that it blacklisted over 2,431 accounts before verifying transactions that were deemed unlawful.

It has received 431 requests from Law Enforcement Agencies (LEA) from October 2022 to March 2023. Of these, 46 requests were from foreign LEAs and 385 requests from Indian LEAs. Releasing its fourth Transparency Report on Tuesday, WazirX said it maintained record of 100% compliance rate for all requests received from LEA, and the requests were received against $390 million worth of transactions during this period. Crypto exchanges have been releasing transparency reports in order to gain the trust of their users. "The transparency report is a testament to our commitment of enabling a secure and reliable crypto ecosystem for our users. We also kept up our ongoing efforts of collaborating with Law Enforcement Agencies to make crypto free of any fraudulent activities, and usher in an environment of trust," Rajagopal Menon, Vice President, WazirX said. The exchange has engaged in over 3,96,126 user interactions during this period. Tackling misinformation and busting misconceptions around VDA(virtual digital assets) is just one of the ways in which we can help our users make informed VDA investment decisions, it said.

Bairstow set to miss 2023 IPL season: Report

Punjab Kings batter Jonny Bairstow is set to be ruled out of the upcoming edition of the Indian Premier League (IPL). According to a report in the guardian, a UK publication, Bairstow, who injured his left leg while playing golf last September, has decided to 'focus on preparing for the Ashes'.

We will back Surya: Dravid

With series on the line, head coach backs India's No. 4 to come good in the 50-over format

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

A CRACKER of a contest is on the cards when India and Australia lock horns in the deciding ODI to be played at the MA Chidambaram Stadium here on Wednesday . With the series level, pressure will be on the hosts as they will be down on morale after the humiliating defeat in the second ODI.

One of the main reasons for the defeat was the fact that the top order failed to deliver. But coach Rahul Dravid was optimistic of a turn around.

"Yeah, I think the last couple of wickets... Mumbai was a bit challenging, in terms of the wicket, the last wicket (Vizag) wasn't a 117-run wicket no doubt about that. But the batting unit has done well in the last year. In the 6-7 games before that we put up some big scores in one-day cricket. Not too much of a concern. Think the odd times these things can happen. Mitchell Starc bowled really well. Credit to him as well the way he has bowled with the new ball. We need to find a way to get through that spell and ensure that we don't lose too many wickets upfront," said Dravid.

India had three spinners in their last game. And the wicket at Chepauk for the decider is a flat brown strip which is hard and dry. It should aid spin as the match progresses. So will there be changes in the spin combo?

"Let's see. We won't announce our playing XI right now. Yeah, we will have a look at the wicket. Looks a pretty good wicket to be very honest with you. Obviously gives us that option, depth is there in our side. The depth is there in our side. We do have three fast bowling options. We could play both as well. We played Shardul (Thakur) in Mumbai and in the past, at No 8, he is an extra seam bowling option. It is just a question of us weighing, what we think is more important against which opposition and how we want to set up our team for the World Cup in October-November," he explained.

Nathan Ellis, the Aussie quick, too agreed that the wicket will take turn. "Obviously, it is going to spin here. For me, the slower balls might come into play. I think it will be a matter of assessing the wicket if we are bowling first. We get a bit more information for the batters who will come out in the second innings and vice versa for batting first, relaying the message back on what the wicket is doing and adapting as the game sort of progresses. It has not been a high-scoring series so far, so we will have to adapt to the wicket and what is presented to us on the day," said Ellis. The hottest topic among the commentators is the form of Suryakumar Yadav. Yadav has not converted his T20 potential into the ODIs. ''Not really concerned about Surya, got two first-ballers, two very good balls. One of the things about Surya is that he is learning the 50-overs game. T20 is slightly different. In T20, he has played 10 years of IPL. He has played a lot of T20 cricket, he has played a lot of high pressure T20 games. Even though he has played a lot of T20 cricket, I think he has not played a lot of one-day cricket. We need to give him some time and be patient with it. We certainly see the upside of him doing well.''

'Smith will have a big role to play'

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

THE way Steve Smith is leading Australia in the absence of Pat Cummins has drawn admiration from all quarters. Smith has been marshalling his resources well. His bowling changes have been spot on and his fielding has been extraordinary.

"Smith is enjoying his captaincy. He is a very experienced batter, having led Australia before. That experience has come in handy on this tour. Plus, having toured India several times in the past he is aware of the conditions and leading from the front," said S Sriram, former assistant coach of Australia. Nathan Ellis too vouched that Smith was indeed a positive influence on him. "Smith is really good as a captain. Steve has been great to me, a really calming influence. Knowing that he backs me, has enabled me to perform better," said Ellis. What makes him stand out is also his ability to read the conditions.

Series at stake

The visitors have a chance to inflict a rare series defeat while India have a fight on their hands if they are to win the third ODI. A look...

India's top-order has not had a good time of it against left-arm pace. Mitchell Starc, with eight wickets to his name, has exploited that weakness with his late swing causing all sorts of problems.

SURYA'S POSITION

Suryakumar Yadav's form is now a genuine cause for concern as the management tries to search for options in the crucial No. 4 position. He has had two first-ball ducks to his name and it could well be the last chance saloon for him.

MARSH AT THE TOP

Mitchell Marsh's rapid starts (81 off 65 and an unbeaten 66 off 36) have put the visitors in command against India's new ball bowlers. The all-rounder, who was spotted bowling in the nets on Tuesday, will look to repeat the same template.

WARNER POSITION

David Warner, who had a session at the nets, could be set for a recall. What's less clear, though, is who he will replace in the line-up. They could maybe move Travis Head to the middle order with Marcus Stoinis making way if Marsh is fit to bowl.

WEATHER WATCH

Like other parts of the country, Chennai has seen some unusual rainfall this month so it's likely the pitch has spent a substantial amount of time under the covers. There could be a thunderstorm or two in the afternoon but there will be a full game in all likelihood.

Oz pacer Ellis living his dream

GOMESH S @Chennai

NATHAN Ellis still pinches himself every time he puts on the Australian jersey. In what has been a nascent international career — the pacer made his T20I debut in 2021 and ODI debut in 2022 — he hadn't had the opportunity to be a regular in the playing XI. In fact, Ellis, who took 2/13 including the wicket of Virat Kohli against India in the second ODI, was not even a part of the squad originally. He came in as a replacement for the injured Jhye Richardson, and with Pat Cummins not returning for the white-ball leg of the tour, his dream came true.

"I am just stoked to be here," Ellis said on Tuesday. "Rubbing shoulders with the likes of Josh (Hazlewood) and Pat... all the guys in the squad, it is helping my game and it is helping me as a cricketer and as a person. So, having blokes like that around the squad and being able to have coffee with in the morning or dinner with in the evening is huge."

While Ellis is having the time of his life with the Australian team in India, it was not the same four years ago. During late 2019, Ellis, a club cricketer then, was having a hard time to make ends meet. Having dominated the NSW Premier Cricket for four years, Ellis moved to Hobart in 2017 looking to make a name for himself. For the next two years, he would struggle to even fill fuel for his car, worked as a labourer on construction sites, air-conditioner installer and so on until he got a job as a teacher's aide at St Virgil's College. However, he was yet to stamp his authority on the cricket field and was contemplating going back to Sydney when then Tasmania coach Adam Griffith asked him to join the pre-season squad.

"The first two years were pretty tough to get enough money to pay rent and put a tank of fuel in the car. I was like, 'I've come down here to have a crack (at cricket), I'm not going to prioritise work. It helped me grow up really fast. It's been a blessing in disguise, in a way, helping to mature and grow up. I was doing anything I could really to pay rent and get by," he had told cricket.com.au at that time.

Nathan Ellis

Things would take a turn for good in the next few months; a Big Bash League debut for Hobart Hurricanes, List-A and First-class debuts for Tasmania followed. So much so that Ellis dominated the 2019-20 BBL, finishing as one of the most efficient death-overs bowlers (12 wickets in 15 games). Another 20-wicket season with the Hurricanes meant he earned a national cap when Australia toured Bangladesh in 2021.

From thereon, Ellis has constantly pushed for a spot in the squad and came close to making the T20 World Cup squad last year. He was not just an unheralded tearaway quick, but he also had the skills to be effective in different phases of the game. That he is bowling alongside Mitchell Starc, someone who has been a part of his journey from NSW, has only helped. "Personally, he is someone I looked up to for a lot of time. He presented me with my first Australia cap too. Even up to the other day, speaking to him pre-game and post-game. He is a calming influence; he is also someone who has been there and done almost everything the game has to offer, whether it is the ups or down," Ellis said on Tuesday.

Jelena exploring Worlds with bigger picture in mind

ANMOL GURUNG @New Delhi

THE ongoing IBA World Championships is an assortment of cultures with boxers from different walks of life here with a common purpose to express themselves inside the ring. For Jelena Janicijevic of Serbia, it's something similar but she also has a bigger picture in mind. Coming from a region where women's boxing is still at a nascent phase, Jelena, 38, is looking to lift the sport in her country.

"I'm trying to achieve a higher level of boxing so I can pass on the knowledge to youngsters. Me and my coach are co-owners of a gym (Belgrade). We are trying to understand what are the requirements at the international level (style of boxing, how to score points) and pass on to the youngsters. My career will finish soon and I see myself as a coach. Serbia is still a patriarchal society and women are not encouraged to take up sports. I want to empower women, not only physically but also mentally and spiritually to understand that they can face any challenge and physical pain is nothing," Jelena, who's the first woman to win a medal at a major competition (European Championships), says. Jelena took up boxing at a competitive level not so long ago in 2015 but she has been involved in combat sports for a long time. Her lifelong journey to try new things has seen her dabble in multiple sports.

"Boxing is my fourth combat sport. I have been boxing since 2015 which is not long but I have been in martial arts since 2002. I'm a black belt in taekwondo. I was a European champion in kick-boxing and I had one professional fight in Muay thai in Thailand," Jelena, who's the reigning WBO European champion (63.5kg), reveals. The Balkan region has been hit by conflict several times. Jelena's ancestors, who came from four ex-Yugoslavian countries, were constantly involved in wars. Growing up in that environment has handed her unreal strength, especially at a mental level. On Tuesday, she fought a hard fight in the 63kg category Round of 16 contest but that was not enough. But she remains unfazed.

"It was easy for me. It was tough for her," she says with jest, adding, "I have no bruises or anything on my face."

The moment of defeat was a hard pill to swallow but she is grateful to get this opportunity. Having faced more pertinent issues in her life, she knows this is not the end of the world. "I went to the States (USA) last summer, and people were avoiding me because they think I'm Russian. That's not my fault, I'm born into this. Everything that happens to me I accept it with gratefulness. My loss today is supposed to teach me something that I didn't know, that I need to correct. That's why I'm very grateful," the boxer, who enjoys her rakija (homemade brandy) every now and then, says. Her willingness to embrace different ideas is also evident when she shares her experience in New Delhi so far. She's happy to learn about a new culture.

"People in India are completely opposite to all the stereotypes we have in Europe. In Europe, people think that people will con you but I have walked here in the streets all by myself and I felt completely safe. People told me it's not safe but I'm Serbian and I'm not afraid of everything. During my lifetime, I have survived three wars. So I'm not afraid of anything. Thanks to this, I walked out and people only wanted to take pictures with me. Also, I got lost and people guided me back."

Interestingly, she has a PhD in English literature. A highly-religious person, she also has a regular job (she is a project manager at a tech company in Belgrade) besides boxing and other activities. "I love to research things, people. Even though that does not benefit me in my career (regular work) at all. I love to do it in my free time, it makes your life richer, and you get a better perspective on people."

Her run at the World Championships might have been cut short, but there's no stopping someone like Jelena in her pursuit for 'richer' life.

NIKHAT, THREE OTHERS MOVE TO QUARTERFINALS

NEW DELHI: A "fatigued" Nikhat Zareen continued her winning run to enter the quarterfinals along with three other pugilists, including Commonwealth Games bronze medallist Jaismine Lamboria, at the Women's World Championships here on Tuesday. Competing in her first international tournament in 50kg weight class, Nikhat saw off Mexico's Patricia Alvarez Herrera 5-0 to notch up her third win of the tournament. Commonwealth Games champion Nitu Ghanghas (48kg) won her bout with a first round RSC against Sumaiya Qosimova of Tajikistan, while last year's bronze medallist Manisha Moun (57kg) got the better of Nur Elif Turhan of Turkey when the referee ruled in her favour in the third round. Jaismine (60kg) came from a round down to overpower Mijgona Samadova of Tajikistan. Shashi Chopra (63kg) and Manju Bamboriya (66kg), however, bowed out of the tournament. While Shashi lost 0-4 to Mai Kito of Japan, Manju was literally outpunched by Navbakhor Khamidova of Uzbekistan. Agencies

Injured Haaland to miss 2024 Euro qualifiers

AGENCIES @Oslo

ERLING Haaland has left Norway's training camp because of a groin injury and will miss the team's upcoming European Championship qualifying games, the national federation said.

Haaland felt pain from a slight groin injury after playing for Manchester City in the FA Cup quarterfinals against Burnley and will return to his club for treatment. Norway begin its Euro 2024 qualifying group program against Spain on Saturday and travels to face Georgia three days later.

BWF Rankings: Sen slumps to world no 25

NEW DELHI: Lakshya Sen slipped six places to move out of the world top 20 in the latest men's singles rankings issued by BWF on Tuesday. Sen slumped to the 25th spot. In women's singles, PV Sindhu stayed at the ninth spot, while Saina Nehwal, who had skipped the All England Championships, slipped five places to 32nd spot.

Bhaker to lead India in shooting World Cup

AGENCIES @Bhopal

STAR female shooter Manu Bhaker will lead a strong Indian field at the International Shooting Sport Federation (ISSF) World Cup Rifle/Pistol beginning here on Wednesday.

It is the first ever shooting World Cup stage to be held in India outside New Delhi and the men's and women's 10m air pistol finals are scheduled on the opening day.

Three Indians each will be in contention for medals in both the events. While Sarabjot Singh, Varun Tomar and Sumit Raman will go first among the men, Rhythm Sangwan, Divya TS and Bhaker will be in contention among the women.

The event was officially inaugurated in a grand opening ceremony by Shivraj Singh Chauhan, Chief Minister of Madhya Pradesh, here at the Kushabhau Thakre International Convention Centre.

Among the dignitaries present was Luciano Rossi, President ISSF.

The men's 10m air pistol event has a 24-strong field while the women have 19 vying for the coveted ISSF World Cup medal with both the reigning world champions Liu Jinyao (men) and Lu Kaiman of China in the fray.

WOMEN'S PREMIER LEAGUE

Capitals Caps-ey of league stage with victory, enter final

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

WITH a clinical performance against UP Warriorz in their final league game at the CCI Brabourne Stadium, Mumbai, Delhi Capitals finished on the top of the points table and directly qualified for the final of the Women's Premier League. Mumbai Indians and UP Warriorz will face each other in the eliminator on Friday.

In what was a spin-dominating encounter, Alice Capsey, Radha Yadav and Jess Jonassen shared six wicket between themselves. At one point, UP were struggling at 91/4, but Tahlia McGrath took it upon herself to smash an unbeaten 58, helping UP get to 138/6.

In reply, Capitals went out all guns blazing with Shafali Verma (16-ball 21) and Meg Lanning (23-ball 39) taking the attack to the bowlers. When they lost three quick wickets, Capsey and Marizanne Kapp made sure there was no further hiccups. The former scored 34 runs from 32 balls before getting out to Sophie Ecclestone, but Kapp took Capitals home in 17.1 overs.

Earlier in the evening, Mumbai Indians trumped Royal Challengers Bangalore by four wickets at the DY Patil Stadium, Navi Mumbai. White Ferns all-rounder Amelia Kerr was the star of the match as the youngster took three wickets for just 22 runs to restrict RCB for 125/9 before guiding the team through the chase with an unbeaten 27-ball 33. With that win, Mumbai moved to the top of the table, but Capitals' victory later in the evening meant they finished second. RCB finished fourth with Gujarat Giants ending up in the last place.

Brief scores: Royal Challengers Bangalore 125/9 in 20 ovs (Richa 29, Perry 29; Kerr 3/22) lost to Mumbai Indians 129/6 in 16.3 ovs (Kerr 31 n.o, Bhatia 30; Ahuja 2/5); UP Warriorz 138/6 in 20 ovs (McGrath 58 n.o; Capsey 3/26) lost to Delhi Capitals 142/5 in 17.5 ovs (Capsey 34, Kapp 34 n.o).

Putin accepts Xi's peace plan to end Ukraine war

Two sign agreement bringing their ties into a new era of cooperation

MOSCOW

RUSSIAN President Vladimir Putin said on Tuesday a Chinese peace plan could provide a basis for a settlement of the fighting in Ukraine when the West is ready for it.

Speaking after talks with Chinese leader Xi Jinping, Putin chargsd that Ukraine's Western allies so far have shown no interest in that.

The Chinese plan calls for a ceasefire and negotiations but does not contain any mention of Russia withdrawing its troops from Ukrainian territory that are occupied.

"Many of the provisions of the peace plan put forward by China...can be taken as the basis for a peaceful settlement when Kyiv and the West will be ready for it," Putin said after talks with Xi. "However, so far we have not seen such readiness on their part."

Meanwhile, China's Xi said he had signed an agreement with his Russian counterpart Vladimir Putin bringing their ties into a "new era" of cooperation.

"We signed a statement on deepening the strategic partnership and bilateral ties which are entering a new era," Xi said following talks with Putin in the Kremlin.

Putin called the talks "meaningful and frank" and said that Russia, which has been largely cut out of European markets because of sanctions, would be able to meet China's "growing demand" for energy.

"I propose strengthening our coordination and cooperation," Xi said between two rounds of talks in the Kremlin in footage shown on Russian state television. Putin said he was "convinced that our multi-level mutually beneficial cooperation will strengthen further".

The Chinese leader's Moscow visit has been viewed as a boost for Putin, who is subject to an International Criminal Court warrant over accusations of unlawfully deporting Ukrainian children. In a declaration signed at the end of their talks, the two leaders expressed "concern" over NATO's growing presence in Asia, according

"The parties express great concern over the ongoing strengthening of NATO's ties with the countries of the Asia-Pacific region on military and security issues," China and Russia said in the declaration.

They accused the United States of "undermining" global security. "The parties call on the United States to stop undermining international and regional security and global strategic stability in order to secure its unilateral military advantage." Agencies

KISHIDA IN UKRAINE

Japan's Prime Minister Fumio Kishida on Tuesday visited Bucha, a town near Kyiv where Russian forces were accused of committing widespread atrocities, in a trip hailed as "historic" by Ukraine. Kishida is the last G7 leader to visit Ukraine and has come under increasing pressure to make the trip, as Japan hosts the G7 summit this May

WIDESPREAD BULLYING

Officers from minorities suffer widespread bullying, while violence against women and girls in the majority white and male force has not been treated seriously enough

Racism also exists within the force, with discrimination often ignored and complaints likely to be turned against Black, Asian and ethnic minority officers

Scotland Yard a racist, misogynistic force: Report

The London police forces, Britain's largest, is institutionally racist, misogynist and homophobic and could still be employing rapists and murderers, a scathing independent review said Tuesday

17% of London police officers are Black, Asian or mixed race, compared with about 10% a decade ago. Some 40% of London's population is Black, Asian or mixed race, according to the 2021 census

31% of police officers are women, up from almost 25% in 2013. In other words, 10,386 officer are women

MISHANDLING OF EVIDENCE

The 363-page report also painted an alarming picture of how crimes against women and children are investigated due to a shortage of funding and a lack of specialized officers trained to handle these cases

A lunchbox was found in the same fridge as forensic samples in rape cases, and some appliances were so full they were strapped shut. One fridge broke down, meaning the evidence inside could no longer be used, and that it meant that all those cases of alleged rape would be dropped, the report found

US girds for possible arrest of Trump

WASHINGTON

NEW York police tightened security Monday ahead of a possible historic indictment of Donald Trump over hush money paid to a porn actress, with the ex-president calling for mass demonstrations if he is charged.

Only a couple of dozen Trump supporters attended a protest in America's financial capital on Monday evening though, as a grand jury weighs an investigation by Manhattan District Attorney Alvin Bragg over the 2016 payment to Stormy Daniels.

Trump would become the first former or sitting president to be charged with a crime if an indictment is filed — a move that would send shockwaves through the 2024 White House race, in which the 76-year-old is running to regain office.

Bragg, an elected Democrat, has not confirmed any plans publicly, but has put key witnesses in front of the jury in recent weeks and offered Trump the opportunity to testify. Trump said over the weekend that he expects to be "arrested" on Tuesday and urged supporters to "Protest, take our nation back!" although his lawyer said the comments were based on media reports and not any fresh action by prosecutors.

Some US media said the panel could vote to indict when it returns on Wednesday after it interviewed its final witness, lawyer Robert Costello, on Monday. The NYPD geared up for an unprecedented arrest, which would see an ex-leader of the United States fingerprinted and possibly even handcuffed, by erecting barricades outside Bragg's office and Trump Tower on Fifth Avenue.

More than a dozen senior police officials met with mayoral aides on Sunday to discuss security and contingency plans for protests, the New York Times reported.

NBC News said police and other law enforcement agencies had conducted "preliminary security assessments," including placing a security perimeter around the Manhattan Criminal Court where Trump would likely appear before a judge. AFP

Pension reforms stand as Macron beats motions of no-confidence

PARIS

THE French government under President Emmanuel Macron on Monday survived two no-confidence motions in parliament, but still faced intense pressure over its handling of a pensions reform. The outcome prompted immediate anti-government protests, with 101 people arrested in Paris alone in tense standoffs between protesters and security forces, police said.

Prime Minister Elisabeth Borne incensed the opposition last week by announcing the government would impose the pension reform without a parliamentary vote, sparking accusations of anti-democratic behaviour.

The opposition filed two motions of no confidence in the government as a result.

The 577-seat National Assembly lower house rejected the first motion — brought by the centrist LIOT coalition and supported by the left — by a margin of just nine votes, much narrower than expected. It then overwhelmingly rejected a motion brought by the far-right National Rally (RN) with just 94 votes in favour. The rejection of the motions means that the reform to raise the pensions age from 62 to 64 has now been adopted by the legislature.

Spontaneous protests erupted in the centre of Paris late Monday with protesters setting fire to bins and clashing with police who used tear gas to clear some areas, AFP reporters said. Similar scenes were reported in other French cities including Dijon. AFP

Co-chair of Russia's Nobel winning group faces criminal case

MOSCOW

RUSSIAN authorities have launched a criminal case against Oleg Orlov, the co-chair of the country's top human rights organisation Memorial, for "discrediting" the army, the group said Tuesday.

The announcement came after security officials raided the homes of multiple Memorial employees including Orlov, 69, and co-founder Yan Rachinsky, 64, earlier in the day.

"A case was launched against Orlov," said Memorial, which has been disbanded by the Russian authorities.

Memorial established itself as a key pillar in civil society by preserving the memory of victims of communist repression and campaigning against rights violations in Putin's Russia.

The raids took place after investigators accused Memorial staff of allegedly including World War Two-era Nazi collaborators on their list of victims of political terror, the organisation said. Memorial, Russia's most renowned rights group, was disbanded by Russian authorities in late 2021, just months before Putin sent troops to Ukraine.

"(I have) constant pain and shame for the horror that our army is creating in a neighbouring sovereign state," Orlov told AFP last year. Memorial received the 2022 Nobel Peace Prize with Belarus's jailed activist Ales Bialiatski and Ukraine's Centre for Civil Liberties.

Rachinsky said last year that the prize came as a surprise and that it would give all Russian rights defenders "new strength and inspiration".

After the start of Moscow's offensive in Ukraine, Russian authorities have expanded a crackdown on dissent, jailing or pushing into exile nearly all prominent Kremlin critics.

Public criticism of Moscow's assault on neighbouring Ukraine is punishable by up to 15 years in prison. AFP

Letter bomb explodes inside newsroom of Ecuador media

QUITO

LETTER bombs were sent to at least five journalists working in TV and radio stations in violence-plagued Ecuador Monday, one of which exploded without causing serious injury, Interior Minister Juan Zapata said.

The prosecutor's office said it had opened an investigation into the crime of terrorism, without stating why the news stations were specifically targeted, or by whom. The interior minister said the envelopes were sent from the town of Quimsaloma, in the coastal province of Los Rios. Three were sent to Guayaquil in the southwest and two to Quito. In the port city of Guayaquil, journalist Lenin Artieda of the Ecuavisa private TV station received an envelope containing a pen drive which exploded when he inserted it into a computer, his employer said.

Artieda sustained slight injuries to one hand and his face, said police official Xavier Chango. No one else was hurt. Chango said the USB drive sent to Artieda could have been loaded with RDX, a military-type explosive. Another package addressed to journalist Carlos Vera was intercepted by the police at a courier company in Guayaquil and did not reach its destination, Zapata said.

Elsewhere in Guayaquil in Ecuador's southwest, the prosecutor's office said a letter bomb was also sent to the offices of TC Television.

There is "an absolutely clear message to silence journalists," said the minister. The Teleamazonas chain later said it had also received a USB stick at its offices in Quito "with the same characteristics" as the one sent to Ecuavisa. AFP

Top Human rights Lawyer suspended

A senior rights lawyer was suspended for five years on Tuesday for making "baseless" allegations against the judicial system. M Ravi had told an online publication outside the Supreme Court in 2020 that the public prosecutor had been "overzealous in his prosecution", after he helped a Malaysian drug convict escape the death penalty on review. "In our judgement, Mr Ravi's misconduct exhibits a fundamental lack of respect and a blatant disregard for the integrity of Singapore's key legal institutions," the court said, announcing its decision

DAY'S DIARY

The Beatles debut

The Beatles rush-released their first album 'Please Please Me' on this day in 1963 with record label Parlophone Records Limited

ALBUM TOPPED UK CHARTS

At a time when UK album charts were dominated by film soundtracks, this pop record stayed at number one for 30 weeks. It was only replaced by the band's second album

COVER SHOT ORIGIN

The iconic front cover shot was taken at the then headquarters of EMI Limited at 20 Manchester Square in London's West End in early 1963 by Angus McBean

TRACK TRIVIA

Twist and Shout, a cover of the Phil Medley and Burt Russell song, was the last track to be recorded because John Lennon had a cold on recording day

BITTER-SWEET SYMPHONY

Brinda Acharya

On Ugadi, CE speaks to actors hailing from different states who share their customs and plans for the festival

Haripriya

MONIKA MONALISA

IT'S Ugadi for Kannadigas, Telugites and Tamilians and the Gudi Padwa for Marathis... The names might be different but the day marks the beginning of the New Year for many people. Sandalwood has been home to many actors who come from different backgrounds. Though all of them consider themselves to be proud Kannadigas, they give a glimpse of their family customs.

For example, actor Brinda Acharya recalls her grandmother telling her cousins and her folktales. "Ugadi, during my childhood, was spent in the hostel. The only thing I did was wear new clothes. It's only in the last five years that I have started celebrating the festival in my house. A strong memory from my childhood was my grandmom telling us the folktale of Ugadi Purusha. We typically celebrate the festival by tidying up the house which is followed by bitter-tasting juice after which we have jaggery. Then we follow it up with a pooja and festive food like hollige," says Acharya.

One of the top names in Sandalwood, Haripriya's family originally hails from Andhra Pradesh. For her, the festival is all about food. "During Ugadi, I take care of the decoration and rituals. My mother is in charge of food. I usually have to watch what I eat because of my profession but on that day, I gorge on festive food. I start the day with a small bite of neem and jaggery," says the actor. Now that she is married into a Kannadiga household, she is going to do things differently. "My mother is hosting us a great feast. at my husband's [Vasishta N Simha] place, the Ugadi celebration is on March 23. So I get to celebrate the festival for two days," she says.

For Tamilians, celebrations start a couple of days in advance. Actor Amrutha Iyengar explains when it comes to Ugadi, most of the South Indians have similar celebrations, however, there are small rituals that are unique to each culture. "For Tamilians, the New Year starts with Ugadi. There is a tradition called Mooru Dosae Habba or Ane Dosae Habba where we stack dosaes on top of each. And then comes Ugadi after a few days. The festival days are quite regular where we start our day with an oil bath and follow it by having bevu-bella, a mixture of neem and jaggery," says Iyengar, who is currently promoting her latest movie Hoysala, starring Dhananjay in the lead role.

It's also Gudi Padwa for Marathis. Having spent a lot of time in Bengaluru, and basking in all the flavours of Ugadi, actor Sanvi Srivastava is currently in Mumbai, where the actor is celebrating Gudi Padwa up close. "It's a big festival for Maharashtrians. It marks the beginning of Navaratri so it is pretty grand here in Mumbai. I am going to visit my friend's place whose mother makes delicious puran poli which tastes the best when served with a dollop of ghee," she shares.

Double-act show

City-based comedian Shankar Chugani and indie musician Sidharth Bendi have been touring South India with their musical comedy show. Here's what is in store in their Bengaluru leg of the tour

DESE GOWDA

COMEDY mics and music shows are a regular affair in Bengaluru. At any given week, one may easily find at least a dozen such events. But if you're looking for a novel experience, one that seamlessly brings together the best of both worlds, then a new music and comedy special from comic Shankar Chugani and indie musician Siddharth Bendi might be for you. After a tour of hill stations across South India, Bendi & Shunky India Tour is coming to the city's Jagriti theatre in early April.

A former Comicstaan finalist who has been making Bengalureans laugh for more than half a decade, Chugani likes to get up on stage as often as he can. "Bendi used to perform regularly in Bengaluru and during those performances, I always wanted to ask if I could do a 10-minute set. But it wouldn't have been fair to him. So instead, I asked if he'd be interested in collaborating with me on something I'd been working on for one of my corporate partners. And that's how it started," he shares.

> The concept takes the pressure off both our shoulders, more so from me. If one of my sets does not work out, I could get off the stage, recollect myself and try out something else
>
> Shankar Chugani, comedian

Initially, Chugani felt it was an intriguing idea that could help him and Bendi reach each other's audiences, while also taking off the pressure to keep them engaged for an extended duration. "When people hear that a show will feature a musician and a comedian together, they'll naturally be curious how that's going to turn out," he explains. "The concept takes the pressure off both our shoulders, more so from me. If I'm doing an hour-long show, it's my responsibility to keep the audience engaged the entire time. Oftentimes, it may not work out for various reasons, but when you have two uniquely different things happening in the same show, it's easier to get the audience engaged. If one of my sets does not work out, I could get off the stage, recollect myself and try out something else."

However, the format poses a significant risk, more so to Chugani, given that while most people are likely to enjoy some forms of music, not everyone might find Chugani's humour funny. "It's a double-edged sword, because if people do not enjoy my comedy while Bendi does really well, then each time I get on stage, it gets progressively tougher for me. But since there's no rigid structure to the show, we try out new ideas at each venue. There's no set time limit either," he shares, adding that since the show's debut in Bengaluru last year, it has undergone significant evolution.

"Since we performed it for the first time last year, it has evolved a lot. I've been doing other shows during the period and the material has also evolved. I often try out some new things that I might have written a while ago but never used. It usually surprises Bendi, which is fun," he says.

Chugani has a long association with Jagriti theatre, having held various responsibilities with them early in his career. Hence, he describes his show being hosted at the venue as 'overwhelming'. "Jagriti is very close to my heart. It's where I watched my first live standup show. Later I started working with them, first as a volunteer, later holding several responsibilities. I think Biswa [Kalyan Rath] was one of the first comics to perform there, and I opened the show for him. So, it had an enormous impact on my personal development, teaching me valuable skills. So I'm excited to be back on that stage and curious what the response will be," he says.

Correct answers and names of first three respondents with right answers will be featured in CE.

1. Dr Homi J Bhabha, widely known as the father of Indian Nuclear Programme was the man behind establishing two well-known research institutions, namely, the Tata Institute of Fundamental Research (TIFR) and the Atomic Energy Establishment, Trombay (AEET) later renamed as Bhabha Atomic Research Center in his honour. Interestingly, Dr Bhabha's grandfather, Hormusji Jahangir served as the vice- principal of Central College in Bengaluru and became the first Inspector General of Education of Mysore state in 1895. Which premier institute in Bengaluru, headed by Nobel Laureate CV Raman, did Dr Bhabha join as the reader in Physics in 1940?

2. Dr Raja Ramanna, one of India's most celebrated nuclear physicists who helped shape India's Nuclear Programme is well known for his role behind 'Operation Smiling Buddha', India's first successful nuclear test at Pokhran in 1974. Dr Ramanna, who hailed from Tumakuru, a small town near Bengaluru served as the Director General of Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) and became the first Director of National Institute of Advanced Studies (NIAS), Bengaluru in 2000. Name the elite school in the city where Dr Ramanna had his early education.

3. Prof. CNR Rao, one of most distinguished scientists in India, is a renowned authority in solid state and structural chemistry. Born and brought up in Bengaluru, Prof Rao joined the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) as a lecturer in 1959 and went on to become its director from 1984 to 1994. With Rao's initiative, the Government of India established the Jawaharlal Nehru Centre for Advanced Scientific Research in 1989. Prof. Rao, who is the recipient of Padma Shri and Padma Vibhushan, was honoured with Bharat Ratna, the highest civilian award in India in 2014. Where in the city is a traffic circle (today an underpass) named after Prof. CNR Rao. Malleswaram or Basavanagudi?

Celebrity designer Latha Puttanna's latest collection is all about promoting traditional Indian sustainable practices

MONIKA MONALISA

Piecing together

AT a time when fashion is getting a lot of flak for not being sustainable or being a major source of pollution, celebrity designer Latha Puttanna's collection Maaya is a classic example of how fashion can be a piece of art without being hazardous to the environment. Her collection is made of fashion waste from her recent workshops.

The designer calls the collection a free-flowing art. This collection is very close to her heart because during the pandemic she realised she had so much leftover textiles or embroidery which she could use creatively. "I recently completed 30 years in business. Whatever we had in terms of textile, embroidery everything, I thought I would do a sustainability story on making use of all of this," says Puttanna, adding that she came up with close to 300 blouses.

Why blouses? The swatches might not have enough to make a saree but definitely adequate for blouses and cutaways sleeves. It was not a problem to create different looks in it. "In one of the instances I didn't have embroidery for both the sleeves so I decided not to create another embroidery at all and just use it on one sleeve. It has its own interesting looks and I think I will remember this collection forever," says Puttanna.

She is quite happy with the outcome. "You don't have to have uniformity in designs. You can play around so much when it comes to design. You have an eye for it and you can look beyond uniform ways of wearing things. Designs and fashion do not have to be calculated. It is definitely something that was done out of free spirit. I didn't follow any rule at all, " says Puttanna, adding, "All the pieces are unique because everything has a crafted element to it. It's got hand-crafted swatches and block prints. There is so much history for me as a designer. So many pieces are from an outfit I would have created," she says.

Another reason for picking the idea of making blouses is because she felt it was versatile. "Blouses don't require too much fabric. This way I was able to use whatever I had," says Puttanna, adding that currently she is working on her spring-summer collection which is going to be launched soon.

FIT BIT

BHUJANGASANA VARIATION ELBOWS BACK

(COBRA POSE VARIATION ELBOWS BACK)

It's a beginner level pose. The alignment brings the shoulder blades near each other and fortifies them. Teachers can use this for preparing students to progress to Cobra Pose and deeper backbends. Can be used in back and core strengthening sequences.

STEPS

- Start in a prone position of Advasana (Reverse Corpse Pose) or Makarasana (Crocodile Pose).
- Place the palms close to your upper abdomen on the floor (chest level).
- The arms and elbows should be aligned close to your body. Stretching feet behind, keeping the toes and heels together, align the legs and lower back as you breathe.
- Press the palms gently, inhale and lift the chest and shoulders and take the body backward. Arms are close to the body, elbows bent. Exhale.
- Bend the neck backward slightly and gaze ahead; Elbows close to the body.
- Inhale and lift the palms off the mat and place it behind the head, interlocking the fingers. Exhale.
- With every inhalation, open the chest.
- Stay in the pose for 2-3 breaths.
- Repeat as per capacity. Release, rest and relax in Makarasana.

BENEFITS

- Strengthens the shoulder joints and tones the shoulder blades.
- Reduces upper back fat and tones the soft muscles of armpits.
- It enables a moderate chest opening.
- Facilitates broad opening of the upper torso.
- Enhances spinal flexibility.
- Maintains rhythmic and normal breathing.
- Guide for other variations of Cobra Pose.
- Very energising as it tones the lower back muscles and glutes.
- Removes muscular tension of the upper, mid, and lower back.
- Aids in proper functioning of digestive organs.
- Heals lungs and respiratory disorders like asthma, allergies and other such disorders.
- Helps good blood circulation.
- Ensures a good transport of nutrients, hormones, and oxygen removing unnecessary waste products.
- Natural relief from backache, neck ache and other such ailments.
- Relieves the leg from sciatica pain.
- Certifying a healthy urinary system and proper waste elimination.

LIMITATIONS

People with any kind of injury to the shoulders, neck, wrist, elbows, rib cage, or back, abdominal hernias, weak intestines, prolapsed uterus, peptic ulcers and pregnant women, should avoid this.

IN FINE PRINT

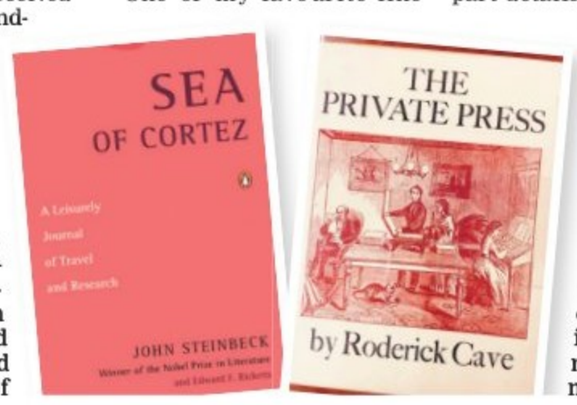
FLYLEAF
VR Ferose

(The author is a technologist based in Silicon Valley who is gently mad about books)

FINE Press books are as much to be experienced as they are meant to be read. Every element in their design and creation is crafted with such meticulous attention to detail that they become fine works of art. These books are produced in limited quantities using high quality materials and techniques and are prized by collectors and bibliophiles for their beauty and craftsmanship.

The mid-19th century saw the birth of the Arts and Crafts Movement in Britain, which was a reaction to the perceived decline in aesthetic standards that was associated with factory-made products. A major influence on the movement was the English designer William Morris who founded the Kelmscott Press in 1891 towards the end of his life. During its seven-year operation the private press (another term for fine press) published 53 books printed by hand in limited editions of around 300 copies. Morris designed the typefaces and ornamental borders, chose the inks and handmade paper, and involved himself in every aspect of production. Inspired by the Kelmscott Press, Elbert Hubbard from East Aurora, New York founded the Roycroft Press in 1895.

One of my favourite fine press books is Arion Press's Sea of Cortez by John Steinbeck and Edward F Ricketts. First published by Viking Press on 5 December 1941, the book remains an overlooked masterpiece. In honour of the authors' landmark 1940 voyage, Arion Press brought new life to a monumental collaboration – part detailed scientific study, part philosophical and spiritual exploration. Steinbeck and Ricketts set off to investigate the narrow gulf between Baja California and mainland Mexico (now referred to as the Gulf of California), which encompasses over 900 islands and remains one of the most biologically abundant and biodiverse ecosystems in the world. Written with lush description and wry humour, Sea of Cortez is at once a journal of an intimate friendship and an ecological rallying cry. What makes the Arion Press edition special is that it incorporates into its design, reclaimed wood from the Western Flyer, the vessel on which the two men travelled!



While there are less than 100 private press publishers in the world today (eg. Limited Editions Club, the Folio Society, The Term Press, and The Black Sparrow Press), Arion Press is considered one of the best. It uses the letterpress printing technique for every book (all letterpress printed books are considered fine press, but not all fine press books are printed via letterpress). It is the last printing facility in the US where books are made from start to finish – from the type to the binding – by hand, under one roof. One of their masterpieces is Moby Dick which came out in 1979 and was sold out before publication. I was fortunate to see and feel a copy of this landmark book. The paper is watermarked with an image of a whale – you see it when you hold it against the light. Today the book costs 30 times the initial price!

The two standard reference books about fine presses and their books are The Private Presses by Colin Franklin and The Private Press by Roderick Cave – the latter is more wide-ranging although the former is more interesting. I will also recommend The Book Beautiful by Pradeep Sebastian. Though the book is not just about a love for fine press books, it gives a great overview for every book lover to discover these rare fine press books. The special edition comes with a letterpress keepsake from the celebrated fine press of Robert LoMascolo.

Fine press books offer sensory transcendence. Whether it is a connection with the binder who carefully glued the pages together, a wistful affection for something delightful, or an examination of a fragile thought, fine press books are a vehicle that feeds a passion. In many ways the fine press book is about the search for perfection.

Telling stories, saving languages

ANUSHREE MADHAVAN

MY recent visit to Bhimbetka Caves in Madhya Pradesh was a learning experience — of human existence back then, their ways of living and communicating through the rock paintings. These very rock shelters inspired author Vaishali Shroff to explore a book on rare Indian languages.

"I marvelled at how we humans have the power to create languages and even destroy them and realised that languages are living beings. Upon further reading, I discovered the alarming rate at which languages in India, and across the world, are dying, and decided that it's high time someone write about these languages – maybe it could help save some languages," she says.

This led to the birth of Taatung Tatung And Other Amazing Stories of India's Diverse Languages, which was released on International Mother Language Day (Feb. 21). The book discusses everything from state languages and the partition of regions due to languages, to efforts individuals are taking to preserve the dying ones.

Excerpts

How long did it take you to finalise this book?

I worked on this book for nearly two years. While some stories were based on research, many of the stories wouldn't have been possible without the amazing language warriors and Adivasis who I had the good fortune of knowing during this project. They helped me with the information I would need to write a narrative and helped me paint an honest picture of the language scenario.

Is it as much a book for adults as it is for children?

There is nothing like an only children's book. Even adults can read them. A book like this needs to be read by all age groups, because everyone – parents, educators, students, linguists, can contribute towards the preservation.

While many of us speak our mother tongue, many don't read or write the same. What kind of threat do we face because of that? What happens to the literature in that case?

While it's better to know how to read and write in our mother tongue, it's important to speak it because languages are considered extinct when their last speaker ceases to exist. A classic example is the case of the Ahom language which was completely replaced by Assamiya. While no one speaks it, its script and stories exist in the Ahom script. But since no one knows how to speak it or knows how it sounds, no one can read it either. Having said this, most languages in our country are only spoken, which is, they don't have a written form. And hence, there are no books written in those thousands of languages, which are still unknown to us.

What would you want children to take away from this book?

While it's absolutely fine to speak in English – it is our lingua franca and undeniably the language that brings the world closer together, it's essential that we keep our mother languages alive at the same time and it's possible. By having conversations, sharing stories, and singing songs in our mother languages, we are ensuring that the language and the wisdom it carries stays around for generations to come.

NUGGETS

Book discussion to be held

ATTA Galatta will be hosting Toxic Spirits, a book discussion by Inderjeet Mani, a well-known US computer-scientist where he will discuss his book, Toxic Spirits, on March 24, from 6.30 pm onwards. His novel is about how tribals in the area were being exploited by drug companies for clinical trials. Mani will be talking about his background, reading excerpts from the novel, and opening up the floor for discussion. Mani has been a professor, as well as the former senior director at Yahoo, before he retired in 2008. He had life-changing experiences while volunteering with an NGO in the mountains of Northern Thailand.

Gururaj Kulkarni's directorial has Crazy Star experimenting with a fresh story. The film will have music by Anoop Seelin

RAVICHANDRAN TO STAR IN A LEGAL THRILLER

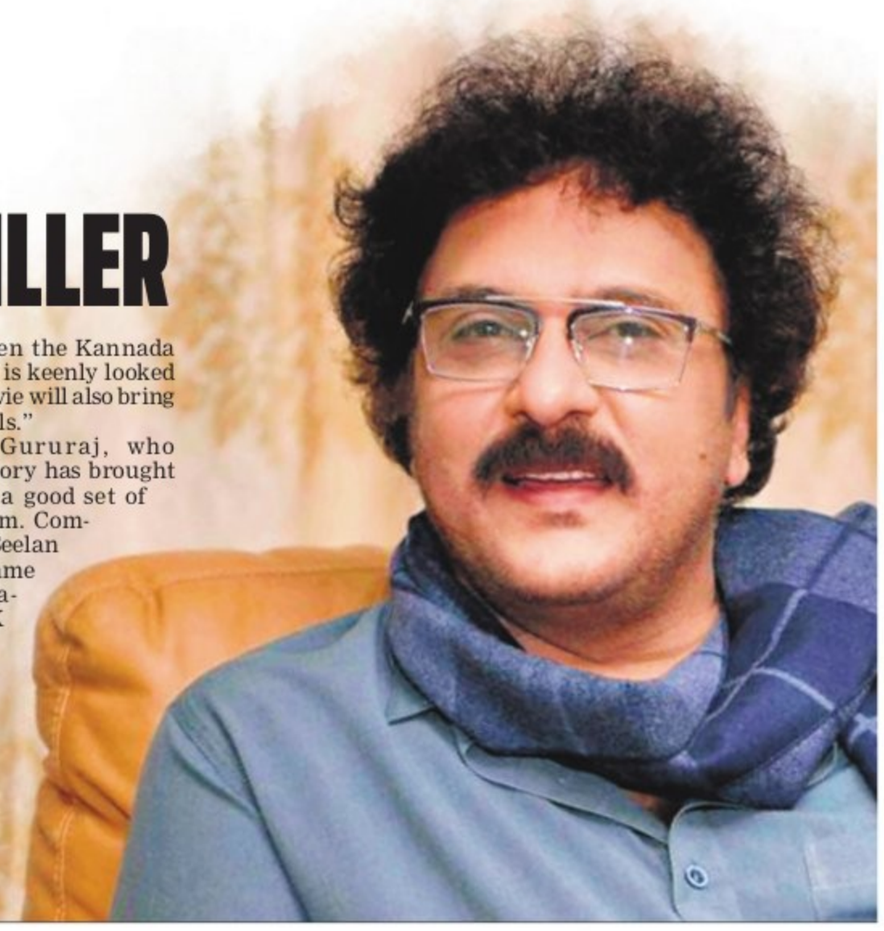
Gururaj Kulkarni with Ravichandran

A SHARADHAA

CRAZY Star Ravichandran is on an experimenting spree. The actor, who is working on Gowri Shankara with Aneesh has now accepted another interesting project. Ravichandran's next will be director Gururaj Kulkarni (Nadagoud) for a legal thriller. The director of Amruth Apartments, and producer of Accident, and Last Bus is collaborating with Crazy Star for the first time. The director plans to officially launch the film on April 23 and commence the shooting. But before that, the team will reveal the title, and details of the role played by Ravichandran along with the first look.

Gururaj, whose first directorial Amruth Apartments was a family thriller, is excited to work with Ravichandran. "Ravichandran, who heard the story was of the opinion that this movie presents him an opportunity to connect with today's generation and it is tuned to contemporary content across various formats. This film will definitely bring him a new set of audience," says Gururaj, adding, "The actor expressed excitement to be involved in a project that provides tremendous scope to perform. The original showman of the Kannada industry is confident that, at a time when the Kannada film industry is keenly looked upon, this movie will also bring us more laurels."

Director Gururaj, who penned the story has brought put together a good set of technical team. Composer Anoop Seelan and 19.20.21-fame cinematographer Shiva BK Kumar are on board. The film has dialogues written by MS Ramesh and it is edited by Kemparaju.



The family entertainer directed by Shashank has the actor sharing screen space with Krishna for the first time

Brinda Acharya to star in Kousalya Supraja Rama

Brinda Acharya

CE FEATURES

DIRECTOR Shashank's next, Kousalya Supraja Rama, starring actor Krishna, is set to feature Brinda Acharya as the female lead. The actor, who was seen in Premam Poojyam and Juliet 2, will be working with Krishna and director Shashank for the first time. The film is billed to be a family drama, which is powered by the mother-son sentiment.

Sharing details about Brinda's role, Shashank says, "The actor plays Shivani, an engineering student, who keeps a balance between traditional and modern outlooks, and represents today's generation." The director also calls Brinda as a talented actor, who has done an excellent job with the character.

Talking about how the project came to her, Brinda says, "Everything happened so quickly after Shashank saw me during the shooting of another film. I have been a huge fan of his work, especially Moggina Manasu, which is my all-time favourite. I was equally excited to share screen space with actor Krishna."

Kousalya Supraja Rama, jointly produced by Kourava Production House and Shashank Cinemas, will have Arjun Janya composing the music and Sugnyan as the DoP.

The film marks the directorial debut of Madhu Gowda Ganguru

Shreyas Manju next to be in college love story

Shreyas Manju

CE FEATURES

SHREYAS Manju seems to be experimenting with genres. The actor, who debut with a commercial entertainer, Paddehuli, tried an out-and-out action flick with Raana. While he waits for the release of his next, Vishnu Priya, which is billed to be a love story, he is now set to star in a college love story, which he signed recently. Madhu Gowda Gangur, who has previously worked as an assistant to director Santhosh Ananddram in Mr. and Mrs. Ramachari now marks his debut with a feature film. The makers have shortlisted four heroines, and will be finalising the female lead soon. The team is also fixing the rest of the cast.

The college drama bankrolled by R Santhosh Kumar under the banner, Ancient Movies has music by Arjun Janya and cinematography byGagan Gowda. The film is likely to begin in the month of April and will be shot in locations of Bengaluru, Chickmagaluru, Kodagu, and Kerala among other places.

REVENGE OF THE MARGINALISED

Film: World War III

CINEMA WITHOUT BORDERS

In this weekly column, the writer introduces you to powerful cinema from across the world

NAMRATA JOSHI

ON the face of it there seems little in common between Bong Joon-ho's much-celebrated Parasite (2019) and Houman Seyyedi's World War III (2022), but the fairytale-like chance of a lifetime offered to Seyyedi's protagonist, the homeless labourer Shakib (Mohsen Tanabandeh), to become a "somebody" from a "nobody" has uncanny parallels with the mind-boggling infiltration, appropriation and occupation of the wealthy Park home by the poor Kim family in the former.

Some early scenes in it, of labourers waiting to be picked up in trucks to be ferried to the construction sites, reminded me of a similar working-class routine portrayed in M. Gani's Hindi film Matto Ki Saikil (2022). This universality defines World War III.

Like Parasite it invokes endemic inequities through architectural verticality. Like the semi-basements and bunkers in Korea, the dispossessed are confined under the earth, the Netherworld of sorts in the Iranian film. Both are marked by a gradual shift in tone—from a light-heartedness in Parasite and the fable-like feel in World War III, there's a rushing headlong into a horrific climax that underlines a dystopic reality where, even in the face of promises of progress, the social divides between the haves and have-nots continue to remain entrenched, perennially depriving the latter of their rightful due. Social mobility is the stuff of dreams, not reality.

Having lost his wife and son in an earthquake, Shakib has been in a steady relationship (a one-woman man as he calls himself) with a deaf and mute prostitute Ladan (Mahsa Hejazi) much to the disapproval of his friends. The turnaround in fortunes comes with a construction job on the set of a film about atrocities committed by Hitler during World War II. It makes Shakib and Ladan dream of a comfortable life together. But will they be able to seize it? The fact is that life for the poor and disenfranchised is a perennial Holocaust, of deceits, deceptions and betrayals. Their living conditions are like being in concentration camps. The poor of today don't have to "get to know" the horrors of Nazism when they are living it.

Seyyedi's film uses the device of film-within-a-film to comment on society at large, especially deploying to great effect the comic-ironic element of the disempowered playacting the powerful oppressor. It ties in with Seyyedi's evocation of political theorist and historian Hannah Arendt in his Director's Statement. "Arendt once said that in dictatorships, everything goes well, up until 15 minutes before the total collapse. Societies ruled by such totalitarian regimes are the most effective creators of anarchists," he writes. His film is an illustration of precisely this tyranny and oppression, it is an urgent warning for the present and the future by harking back to the past.

However, not just political, there are several flashpoints between the empowered and the marginalised—social, economic, aesthetic, and even cinematic—leading to their boundless rage, rebellion, revenge and bottomless tragedy. A director can be a dictator and a film set could be a site of physical labour pitted against intellectual, artistic pursuits. There is hierarchy and powerplay in filmmaking as well.

"Everyone is always bullying everyone else," states an extra in the film. Shakib complains of no one listening to him, and that it's easier to beat him up than lend him an ear. "I was a nobody. I am a nobody still," he says, despite his starring role. But is it worth becoming a somebody who is compromised and heartless? That forms the core moral debate of the film.

World War III won the best film and best actor awards in the Orizzonti section of the Venice Film Festival 2022 and was the official submission of Iran for the Best International Film Oscar this year. It plays on March 26 at the Capital's India Habitat Centre as part of the Habitat International Film Festival. Well worth a watch.
